

SCRAP MANY BIG WARSHIPS AND STOP BUILDING MORE FOR TEN YEARS, U.S. PLAN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12—America's concrete proposal for limitation of naval armaments—the crux of the arms conference—was presented today by Secretary Hughes at the very opening of the first session.

A naval holiday, in which all building programs should be abandoned and the older ships of present navies scrapped, was the keynote of the American proposal.

Mr. Hughes laid down four general principles:

"1. That all capital ships building program, either actual or projected, should be abandoned.

"2. That further reduction should be made through the scrapping of certain of the older ships.

"3. That in general, regard should be had to the existing naval strength of the powers concerned.

"4. That the capital ship tonnage should be used as the measurements of strength for navies and a proportionate allowance of auxiliary combatant craft prescribed."

For the United States, the program would scrap all capital ships under construction, fifteen in number, and fifteen of the older battleships. Great Britain would stop construction on her four new ships of the Hood type and scrap all her second and first line battleships up to the King George V class.

Japan would abandon plans for two battleships and four battle cruisers not yet laid down and in addition would scrap three capital ships and four battle cruisers in process of construction and all ten of the pre-dreadnoughts and battleships of the second line.

As a replacement program, the American government proposed that no more ships be laid down for the next ten years and that a maximum replacement tonnage figure be fixed providing eventually for 500,000 tons for the United States, 500,000 tons for Great Britain and 300,000 for Japan.

A proviso also would be included permitting replacement of capital ships when they were twenty years old and prohibiting construction of any ship built in replacement with a tonnage of more than 35,000 tons.

Disarmament Conference Opens; Adjourns Until Tuesday

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 12.—The conference on limitation of armaments adjourned at 12:22 o'clock until Tuesday, November 15, at 11 a. m. after Secretary Hughes was selected chairman and John W. Garrett, of Baltimore, former minister to the Netherlands, was selected as secretary general of the conference.

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 12.—Fresh with memories of the soldier dead, the conference on the limitation of armaments met in its first session today to seek "the rule under which reason and righteousness shall prevail."

In the Memorial Hall of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the statesmen and diplomats of five great powers and the representatives of four more, gathered about the table to organize the way through which they hope to remove causes which might lead to war and then as a consequence remove the economic burden and waste the world suffers in preparation.

Although the opening hour of the first session was set for 10:30 o'clock, the notables began arriving soon after ten to hear the opening address of President Harding, and to form their

Tremendous Scrapping Of Warships

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 12.—A ten year naval holiday in naval construction, involving a tremendous scrapping of ships now on the ways or contemplated by the United States, Great Britain and Japan was proposed to the conference on limitation of armaments by Secretary Hughes at the opening session today, as America's proposals.

Briefly the American program is: That there immediately be destroyed by the navies of the three great powers 66 capital fighting ships and a total tonnage of 1,878,843 tons. Within three months after making an agreement the navies would consist of designated and agreed upon ships as follows:

United States, 18; Great Britain, 22; Japan, 10.

In tons this would be United States, 300,650; Great Britain, 604,450; Japan, 289,700.

Replacements would be limited by an agreed maximum of capital ship tonnage as follows:

United States, 500,000 tons; Great Britain, 500,000 tons; Japan, 300,000 tons.

Subject to the ten year holiday limitation capital ships could be replaced when they are 20 years old. No replacement ship would have a tonnage of more than 35,000.

A total tonnage in cruisers, flotilla leaders and destroyers for each power would be fixed as follows:

For the United States 450,000 tons; for Great Britain, 450,000 tons; for Japan, 270,000 tons.

The total tonnage of submarines allowed each power would be as follows:

For the United States, 90,000 tons; for Great Britain, 90,000 tons; for Japan, 54,000 tons.

The total tonnage of airplane carriers was proposed as follows:

For the United States, 80,000 tons; for Great Britain, 80,000 tons; for Japan, 48,000 tons.

In each case it would be provided that no government whose present tonnage exceeds the prescribed limit would be required to scrap such excess until replacements have been begun.

Cruisers 17 years old could be replaced by new construction. Similarly, destroyers, flotilla leaders and submarines could be replaced when 12 years old and airplane carriers when 20 years old.

Limitation of airplane construction was not outlined in detail in the American proposal, but it was declared in the proposal that since the importance of the merchant marine is a factor in any naval armament program "regulations must be provided" to govern the construction of merchant craft for war purposes.

Other features of the auxiliary craft reduction program included:

Exemption from the terms of the agreement of existing monitors; unarmored surface craft under 3,000 tons, fuel ships, supply ships, tenders, repair ships, tug and mine sweepers.

No new auxiliary combatant craft could be built, except from terms of the agreement, that exceeded 3,000 tons, had a speed of more than 15 knots and carried more than four five-inch guns.

All auxiliary surface craft whose keels already have been laid could be carried to completion. Agreement will be made later for details of scrapping the ships falling outside the proposed limitation.

Each of the powers party to the agreement would bind itself to inform all the other parties or concerning:

1. The names or number of the ship to be replaced by new construction.

2. The date of authorization of replacement tonnage.

3. The dates of laying the keels of replacement tonnage.

4. The replacement tonnage of each new ship to be laid down.

5. The actual date of completion of each new ship.

6. The fact and date of the scrapping of ships replaced.

A summary of the results of the agreement so far as it affects capital ships, was included in the American proposal in the following terms:

"If the terms of this agreement are agreed to, then the United States, Great Britain and Japan agree that their navies, three months after the

The text of the proposal as its details concern the three leading naval powers is as follows:

"UNITED STATES—The United States is now completing its program of 1916 calling for ten new battleships and six battle cruisers. One battleship has been completed. The others are in various stages of construction; in some cases from sixty to eighty per cent of the construction has been done. On these 15 capital ships now being built over $330,000,000 have been spent. Still the United States is willing in the interest of an immediate limitation of naval armaments to scrap all these ships.

"The United States proposes, if this plan is accepted—

"1. To scrap all capital ships now under construction. This includes six battle cruisers and seven battleships on the ways and in the course of building, and two battleships launched.

"The total number of new capital ships thus to be scrapped is 15. The total tonnage of the new capital ships when completed would be 618,000 tons.

"2. To scrap all of the older battleships up to, but not including the Delaware and North Dakota. The number of these old battleships to be scrapped is 15. Their total tonnage is 227,740 tons.

"Thus, the number of capital ships to be scrapped by the United States, if this plan is accepted, is 30, with an aggregate tonnage (including that of ships in construction if completed) of 845,740 tons.

"GREAT BRITAIN—The plan contemplates that Great Britain and Japan shall take action which is fairly commensurate with this action on the part of the United States.

"It is proposed that Great Britain—

"1. Shall stop further construction of the four new Hoods, the new capital ships not laid down, but upon which money has been spent. The four ships, if completed, would have a tonnage displacement of 172,000 tons.

"2. Shall, in addition, scrap her pre-dreadnoughts, second line battleships and first line battleships, up to, but not including, the King George V class.

"These with certain pre-dreadnoughts which it is understood have already been scrapped would amount to nineteen capital ships and a tonnage reduction of 411,375 tons.

"The total tonnage of ships thus to be scrapped by Great Britain (including the tonnage of the four Hoods, if completed) would be 583,375 tons.

"JAPAN—It is proposed that Japan—

"1. Shall abandon her program of ships not yet laid down, viz, the K-11, Owar, No. 7 and No. 8, battleships, and Nos. 5, 6, 7 and 8 battle cruisers.

"It should be observed that this does not involve the stopping of construction as the construction of none of these ships has been begun.

"2. Shall scrap three capital ships, the Mutsu, launched, the Tosa, the Kago, in course of building, and four battle cruisers, the Amagi and Akagi in course of building, and the Atoga and Takao, not yet laid down, but for which certain material has been assembled.

"The total number of new capital ships to be scrapped under this paragraph is seven. The total tonnage of these new capital ships when completed would be 289,100 tons.

"3. Shall scrap all pre-dreadnoughts and battleships of the second line. This would include the scrapping of all ships up to but not including the Settsu, that is, the scrapping of ten old ships, with a total tonnage of 159,828 tons.

"The total reduction of tonnage on vessels existing, laid down, or for which material has been assembled (taking the tonnage of the new ships when completed) would be 448,928 tons.

"Thus, under this plan, there would be immediately destroyed of the navies of the three powers, sixty-six capital fighting ships, built and building, with a total tonnage of 1,878,843.

"It is proposed that it should be agreed by the United States, Great Britain and Japan that their navies with respect to capital ships, within three months after the making of the agreement, shall

"Creed Of America In All Its Deliberations,"—Parley's Keynote

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 12.—Gathered with the chosen representatives of nine nations about him, President Harding today opened the conference on limitation of armaments, pronouncing its keynote in these words—the creed of America in all the deliberations.

"The United States welcomes you with unselfish hands. We harbor no fears; we have no selfish ends to serve; we suspect no enemy; we contemplate or apprehend no conquest. Content with what we have, we seek nothing that is another's. We only wish to do with you that finer, nobler thing which no nation can do alone. We wish to sit with you at the table of international understanding and good will. In good conscience we are eager to meet you frankly and invite and offer co-operation. The world demands a sober contemplation of the existing order and the realization that there can be no cure without sacrifice, not by one of us, but by all of us. I do not mean surrendered rights or narrowed freedom, or denied aspirations or ignored national necessities. Our republic would no more ask for these than it would give. No pride need be humbled, no nationality submerged, but I would have a merging of minds committing all of us to less preparation for war and more enjoyment of fortunate peace."

HARDING URGES POWERS TO LIMIT ARMS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The text of President Harding's address at the opening of the conference on the limitation of armaments follows:

Mr. Secretary and members of the conference, Ladies and Gentlemen:

It is a great and happy privilege to bid the delegates to this conference a cordial welcome to the capital of the United States of America. It is not only a satisfaction to greet you, because we were lately participants in a common cause, in which shared sacrifices and sorrows and triumphs brought our nations more closely together, but it is gratifying to address you as the spokesmen for nations, whose convictions and attending actions have so much to do with the weal or woe of all mankind.

TO HAVE SIGNAL INFLUENCE ON WORLD

It is not possible to overappreciate the importance of such a conference. It is no assembly of men, no disputation of other nations, which though not represented, are held in highest respect, to declare that the conclusions of this body will have a signal influence on all human progress, and the fortunes of the world.

Here is a meeting, I can well believe, which is an earnest testimony of the awakened conscience of twentieth century civilization. It is not a convention of remorse, nor a session of sorrow. It is not the conference of victors to define terms of settlement, nor is it a council of nations seeking to remake humankind. It is rather a coming together from all parts of the earth to apply the better attributes of mankind to minimize the faults in our international relationships.

Speaking as an official sponsor for the invitation, I think I may say the call is not of the United States of America alone. It is rather the spine word of a war-weary world struggling for restoration of humanity crying for relief and craving assurances of lasting peace. It is easy to understand this world-wide aspiration. The glory of triumph, the rejoicing in achievement, the love of liberty, the devotion for country, the pangs of sorrow, the burdens of debt, the desolation of ruin—all these are appraised alike in all lands. Here in the United States, we are but freshly turned from the burial of the unknown American soldier, when a nation-sorrowed while paying her tribute. Whether it was spoken or not a limited number of our people were summarizing the inextinguishable cause, the incalculable cost, the unspeakable sacrifices, and the unmitigable sorrows, and there was ever the impelling question: How can humanity justify or God forgive.

Human hate demands no such toll, if misunderstanding does not take the blame, then let us banish it, and let understanding run and make good will reign everywhere. All of us demand liberty and justice. There can not be one without the other; and they must be held the unquestioned possession of all peoples. Inherent rights are of God, and the tragedies of the world originate in their attempted denial. The world today is infusing their enjoyment by a ruling to defend or deny, when simply sanity calls for their recognition through common understanding.

SEEKS ARMS LIMITED—WAR OUTLAWED

Out of the cataclysm of the world war came new fellowships, new convictions, new aspirations. It is ours to make the most of them. A world staggering with debt needs its burden lifted. Humanity which has been shocked by wanton destruction would minimize the agencies of that destruction. Contemplating the measureless cost of war and the confining burden of armament and would like war outlawed, wish for real limitation of the world's hundreds of millions who pay in soberest reflection the world's armaments to turn the expenditures for destruction into means of construction, aimed at a higher state for those who live and follow after.

It is not alone that the world can not readjust itself and rest aside the excess burdens without relief from the leaders of men. War has grown progressively cruel and more destructive from the first recorded conflict to this present day, and the reverse order would more become our boasted civilization.

Gentlemen of the conference, the United States welcomes you with unselfish hands. We harbor no fears; we have no selfish ends to serve; we suspect no enemy; we contemplate or apprehend no conquest. Content with what we have, we seek nothing which is another's. We only wish to do with you that finer, nobler thing which no nation can do alone.

We wish to sit with you at the table of international understanding and good will. In good conscience we are eager to meet you, frankly, and invite and offer co-operation. The world demands a sober contemplation of the existing order and the realization that there can be no cure without sacrifice, not by one of us, but by all of us.

I do not mean surrendered rights, or narrowed freedom or denied aspirations, or ignored national necessities. Our republic would no more ask for these than it would give. No pride need be humbled, no nationality submerged, but I would have a merging of minds, committing all of us to less preparation for war and more enjoyment of fortunate peace.

CIVILIZATION FACES CRUCIAL TEST

The higher hopes come of the spirit of our coming together. It is but just to recognize varying needs and peculiar positions. Nothing can be accomplished in disregard of national apprehensions. Rather, we should not together to remove the causes of apprehensions. This is not to be done in intrigue. Greater assurance is found in the exchanges of simple honesty and directness, among men resolved to accomplish as heroes leaders among nations, when civilization itself has come to its crucial test.

It is not to be challenged that government fails when the excess of its cost robs the people of the way to happiness and the opportunity to achieve. If the finer sentiments were not urging, the cold hard facts of excessive cost and the eloquence of economies would urge us to reduce our armaments. If the concept of a better order does not appeal, then let us ponder the burden and the blight of continued competition.

"The Four Horsemen" Here; Greatest of Photo Dramas

Rex Ingram's $1,000,000 Production of Ibanez Story For Metro Fulfills Promise Of Epical Achievement

TEEMING HUMAN PASSION
AMID THE GRANDEUR OF WAR

The quarrel in the cafe

"The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" opens Monday matinee at the Columbia Theatre for a limited engagement of only one week. There will be two performances daily, matinee, 2:15 and evening 8:15. This is the Rex Ingram production that cost Metro $1,000,000 to make, and that New Yorkers paid $10 a seat to see when it opened its record-breaking run in the metropolis. The artistic results are priceless. Indications of the screen's power have been given in memorable productions of other years, but not until "The Four Horsemen" has there been a photodrama that has completely filled the promise of epical achievement.

It is in this sense of recording mighty events that the screen's superiority over the stage was recognized by critics after the first showing of "The Four Horsemen." Some of them harked back to the days of Shakespeare and the Elizabethan revival for a parallel in the theatre to the Rex Ingram production. They recognized the grandeur of the Great War had been visualized as a lasting memorial.

But "The Four Horsemen" is not a war play, except as the war serves as a background for a story teeming with dramatic passion. Readers of the novel by the sensationalist Spaulding, Vicente Ibanez, from which the photodrama was adapted, have reported surprised delight at the fidelity with which the scenarioist, June Mathis, has followed the story, a story that has been more widely read throughout the world than any other of modern times. Its effect is heightened in the picture, a symphonic expression of the cinematographic art.

The artist to whom most credit has been awarded for this achievement is the director, Rex Ingram. Himself a sculptor before he entered the motion picture field, he has brought to the screen a sense of composition and form that is infallible in getting the right result down to the smallest detail. And then there are the big settings—the broad sweep of the Argentine plains with their enormous herds of cattle, the Buenos Aires dance hall with its swirl of smoke and glimmerous vice, the whirling gaiety of the Parisian tango palace, the fevered rush of the mobilization scenes at the outbreak of the war, the cluttered retreat of the refugees, the seemingly endless masses of German troops pouring toward Paris, the bombardment and destruction of a village and a château on the Marne, the terrible horror and fascination of an infantry attack from the trenches into No Man's Land. And through it all is the un-

THE MESSIAH

On the Tuesday evening following Christmas, December 27th, Handel's great oratorio, "The Messiah," which was rendered so effectively last spring at the First Presbyterian church, will be repeated. This advance announcement is made today by the organist and director of the First Presbyterian choir, Mrs. J. M. Stockham. The mid-week date is made, that it may not conflict with the Christmas Sunday services of any other church in the city. A strong popular demand has made itself felt that this rendition of "The Messiah" should include several of the great choruses it was felt wise to omit last spring in order not to have the program too long. This addition will add much to the power and appeal of this event of all oratorios. One of the traditions of this noble work is that those who hear it once at music means anything to them, awake at once to a passionate desire to hear it again and again. There are a number of our large cities where it has been repeated Christmas after Christmas for the past 25 or 30 years. It should become a well-known tradition that "The Messiah" will be heard every Christmas.

The reputation of both the director and her augmented choir is thoroughly established in the musical mind of Portsmouth, and the rendition will be looked forward to with real anticipation.

The case is one that has been in the courts for months. Mrs. Clark was selected by the board of education for the rural school and later the board selected Robuck. Neither would give way to the other and the school has had two teachers for several months.

To Contest Mayor's Election

ASHLAND, Ky., Nov. 12.—S. D. Wheeler, Republican, will be the next mayor of Ashland, unless he is denied the office through a contest that it is believed will be instituted. Mr. Wheeler received a majority of 7 votes over John J. Burick, Democrat. Democrats have announced they will contest the election, charging error by election board in counting the returns and by throwing out certain ballots that were split.

Communion At Second Church

Tomorrow evening the sacrament of Communion will be administered at the Second Presbyterian church. Communion services at the Second church have always been occasions for the largest congregations, a time when the members have gathered together to renew their vows. The minister and the session are particularly anxious that every member will make it a matter of conscience to be present at this service.

In the morning Reverend Evans will preach on the subject, "The Awakening Church." The subject is particularly apt, coming as it does at the beginning of the campaign for greater spirituality and interest in church affairs. All group captains, lieutenants, and officers of the church are especially requested to be present. Last Sunday's morning attendance exceeded that of any regular service held under the new pastorate while the past Wednesday evening prayer meeting was attended by one hundred and twenty-five persons, more than ever before this fall. All members, particularly those who have not been regular

Find 50 Pair Of Shoes

ASHLAND, Ky., Nov. 12.—Fifty pairs of shoes were found early today in boxes and coffee sacks by several boys on the river bank at the foot of Seventeenth street, where they were probably thrown from a passing freight train by thieves, who were unable to retrieve their booty.

The boys reported their discovery to the police who brought the shoes to the station where they will be held until the right owner can identify them. The shoes were part of a shipment from Baltimore to Cincinnati.

Verdict For Defendant

The $15,000 slander suit of Miss Mabel Vogler against John H. Shiver, which started in the common pleas court Wednesday, came to a sudden end Thursday afternoon after many witnesses had been examined, when Judge Stephenson, on motion directed the jurors to return a verdict in favor of the defendant.

Money Ready For Registrars

Money for registrars for the recent election is now ready at the office of City Auditor J. Earl Chandler, and may be secured at Mr. Chandler's office on Second street any time Monday or thereafter.

Judge Stephenson Away
Judge Will P. Stephenson is in Miami county to preside over the common pleas bench there upon assignment from the chief justice. From there he will go to Butler county. He expects to be back about Thanksgiving.

Smoke House In Action Sunday at Millbrook

Tomorrow afternoon on the Millbrook gridiron the Smoke House team will meet a worthy opponent in the Worthington Independents, a team that comes from a town nine miles north of Columbus. The battle will begin at 2:30 sharp with all the Smoke House-regulars in the game.

Reckless Driving Charge Follows Automobile Crash Near Union Mills

When a Nash car driven by C. M. L. Kinsey, a Ford machine driven by Z. L. Kinsey, and a half mile west of Union Mills Friday night about seven o'clock, the Ford was badly damaged, both right wheels being smashed and the fenders badly bent. When the cars collided with great force the impact threw the occupants of the Ford, Z. L. Kinsey, S. G. Kinsey, Garnet Noel and Harry Martin from the machine but they escaped injury aside from minor bruises and the driver of the other machine, who was alone, escaped unhurt. The Kinsey machine was travelling west and the driver and his companions were on their way home.

Township School Board Results

G. M. Andre received high vote for member of the school board at Wheelersburg in the recent election, receiving 179 and A. B. Preston finished in second place with 174 followed closely by G. Wesley Shuler with 171. The other candidates trailed. J. W. Fergis and Arthur Evans finished in second place with 74 and Williams Freeman was the third member selected with a total of 71 votes. The defeated candidates were Frank Kalsin with 69 and Joseph Wygel with 65.

Not A Sectarian Controversy

By John Collins Jackson

Let no one imagine that meeting the challenge thrust upon us by the three visiting Fundamentalists is a sectarian controversy. It is neither denominational, nor local, nor of recent origin. It is simply a phase of the age-old conflict between Progression and Conservatism. That struggle goes on in every department of life, and this feature of it is in the theological field. It is found in every branch of the Church, including the Roman Catholic. The Bible is the bone of contention in the religious arena. What is its nature, and its true mission? That issue divides the thinking Christian world today.

It was significant that two of the three visiting protagonists were from the South, where slavery has left its blighting effects. Even after fifty years of freedom, every close observer, visiting the South, will say that it is far behind the times in every way. This is not said in a disrespectful spirit. It is merely stating a well-known fact, because of its bearing on this question. A Southern Methodist, writing in the Western Christian Advocate, last week said: "We do not know what heresy is down this way," by which he meant that they give no countenance to modern thought in theology.

He then speaks of two books published in that section of the union, one by Bishop Candler, of the Southern Methodist Church, and the other by Professor John A. Rice, of Dallas, Texas, University. He says "they are as divergent in thought as the two poles." Candler's book is in full accord with the letter of the Gospel, and will tend mightily to hold this generation to the faith of their fathers."

Professor Rice's book is on "Old Testament Studies." His critic admits that "Rice is evangelical in spirit, and earnest in his labors." Says he "is a great teacher; has made a study of the Old Testament; at times is very illuminating in his method of interpretation; in the main is helpful; but it is not good reading for immature minds."

There you have a fair putting of the case. Bishop Candler "is in full accord with the letter of the Scripture." St. Paul says that "the letter killeth; that it is the spirit which giveth life." And that is the difference between the ancient method of interpreting the Bible and Christ's method, which we now are trying to teach. Literalism sent the Christ to the Cross; and many of His followers meet the same fate today. But even Southern conservatism is less literal, and drastic than it once was. It no longer justifies slavery by the Bible. Bishop Candler's book does not defend that faith of his fathers. Hence he is not in full accord with the letter of the Old Testament after all.

The trouble with Professor Rice was, not that he was not devout, nor scholarly, nor loyal to the truth; but that he was too far in advance of others. His book is not "good reading for immature minds." In other words, mature minds must be held in the same bondage as the immature. That is precisely what they required of him, and he now adds another to the list of modern martyrs for the truth's sake.

Last week's Advocate also tells us that "Criticism of Dr. J. A. Rice, the Southern Methodist professor, under fire as a historical interpreter of the Old Testament, has led him to resign his position in the University of Dallas, Texas."

Yes, we used to do that way with thinkers in the North, too, half a century ago; but we are ashamed of it now. Still another item in the West-

The Folly & Wickedness Of War Case Vs Oberlin

In obedience to the request of the Presiding Bishop and Council of the church the services at All Saints' Church tomorrow will have special reference to the Disarmament Conference and the future peace of the world. In the morning the Rector will preach on "The Folly and Wickedness of War." His evening sermon will be "A Step Towards World Peace."

Mr. Powell will speak not only as a clergyman, but as an ex-soldier with experience of actual fighting. He is a veteran of the Boer War and was wounded in action at Jagersfontein in 1901.

It is true to an extent undreamed of that the future peace, prosperity and happiness of the world depends upon the action forth coming from the conference now assembled in Washington. The evening sermon will have particular reference to the Conference.

Both these sermons will help you towards an intelligent understanding of the problems before the Conference. You are invited to hear them.

Special hymns and prayers will be used throughout the day, and Mrs. H. C. Hugh, soprano soloist, will sing Julia Ward Howe's "Battle Hymn of the Republic" at the evening service.

Morning service at 10:30 a. m.; evening at 7:30 p. m.

To reach the church, leave the street car at Fourth and Chillsithe streets and walk two squares west on Fourth to the corner of Fourth and Court.

Don't be a clam—a clam never moves—it never progresses. Don't be a clam. Use Guyardelle Club Coffee, a combination of the finest coffees grown, mellow, aromatic, delicious.

CLEVELAND, O., November 12.—Case School of Applied Science and Oberlin College football teams clash here today. Case with the best eleven it has produced in years, will try to stop Oberlin in its whirling march for the Ohio conference championship. If half the bear stories coming from Oberlin are true, Case stands a chance of beating the visitors. Reports from Oberlin say the team is badly crippled and it is doubtful if Parkhill, fullback, and goal kicker and quarterback, Wheeler, and Halfback McNeely will start in today's game.

Tax books are now open for payment of taxes in all districts outside the city of Portsmouth.

Many Men Imagine They Do Not Need The Church

And, yet, these self-same men insist that their good wives and children attend church and Bible School. The church is a divinely-instituted organization—established by the Master Mind that it may provide help and inspiration. Real happiness comes from duty well done—from living up to the highest possible ideals. Surely the Master should be worshiped by all people—by men and women. This would be a dreary old world were there no churches and no Sunday Schools.

Christianity demands the best energies of red-blooded men. It is a man-sized job to fight himself and keep true to his highest ideals. Church-going helps—helps mightily.

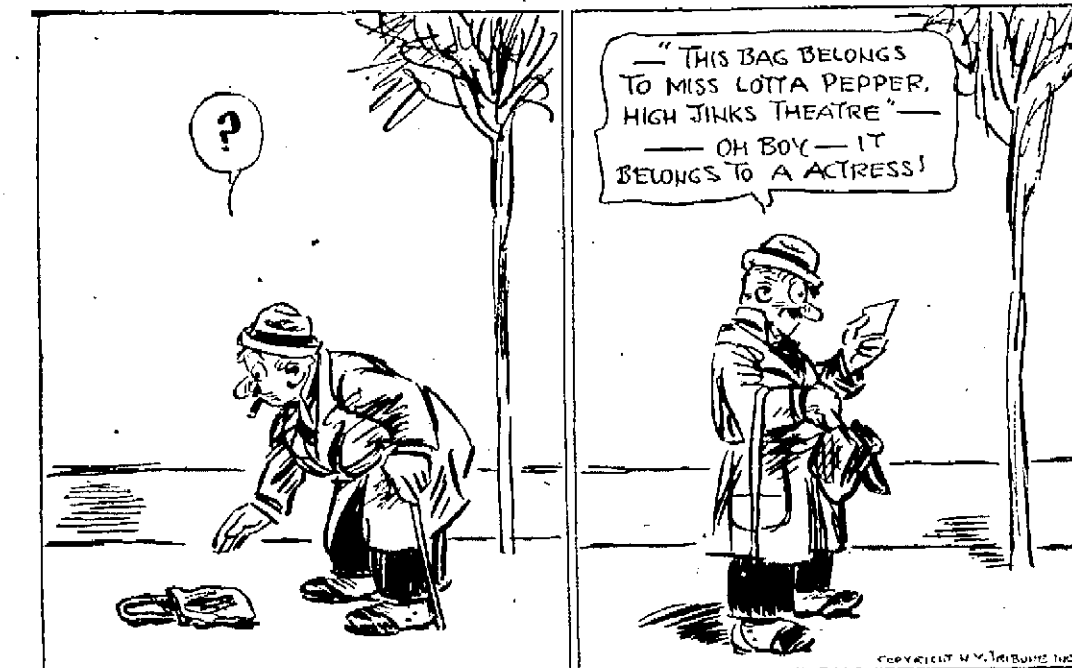

Select some church and let it help you and you help it. Attend church next Sunday—some church—any church—and you will be all the better and happier.

Many men are of the opinion that the church is woman's sphere. Will the Righteous Judge accept that flimsy argument.

"Choose you this day whom you will serve."

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years, and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth," bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c.

CONFESSIONS OF A MOVIE STAR

CHAPTER XXIV—DICK REFUSES TO KILL A SNAKE

"You won't be such a scare-creature when you've been in the movies long as I have!" Ginevra drawled. "I'm a girl just like you!"

"Sure-baby?" Horrors! I did a girl just like Ginevra? Hello, Ginevra!"

The voice was Dick's and it reached me simultaneously with the slamming of the perfect lady's door. Doubtless he had missed the vision and had only heard her in passing her half-loud door. That must be it. But so, how could the fastidious Jim address a genuine Thais?—a such a friendly one!

I'd heard plenty of that in studios. It was bunk—meaning—bunk. But—friendliness! Some what excitement brought the tears to my eyes. And it was absurd to my own carefully applied common sense. Ginevra, not I, was the one to be feared.

I tried to meet Ginevra and Dick at the home of a happy family. The studio restaurant all the people in genuine democracy. Actors in their costumes, the directors and the technicians, cameramen and craftsmen, carpenters and milliners, decorative artists and seamstresses, came and went in carnival variety.

Several of the boys stood up when I entered the restaurant. I signaled Bobby that I would take the chair at his side. Bobby manages the lights for my director. He's a nice boy. He was overcast, and he says he's learned to pick out a lady when he sees her. Though why being in the army can teach a man that, I can't imagine. I especially liked Bobby that morning because the place beside him was a long, long way from Dick Barpes.

Dick was sitting across from Ginevra, dressed now in a regular Greenwich village smock and skirt—jade green and white, with a huge Spanish comb of green stones over one ear. She was smoking cigarettes. The restaurant is the only place where smoking is allowed. Cigarettes and coffee—that's what Ginevra works on, she boasts.

I wondered if Dick were sitting opposite Ginevra by chance or choice.

My tears nearly embarrassed me. While Bobby talked to me, I kept thinking of the only time Dick and I had lunched together. He had taken me in his canoe up the river back of the New England town. I'd never been off like that with a man before. I didn't know then, but later I realized what a high opinion of Jimmy Motherhead had held.

He and I were two of a small fishing party of boys and girls from the summer cottages.

A harmless little garter snake invaded our circle when we lunched on the river bank. Dick was stubborn when his cousin, pretty Peggy Lincoln, screamed, or rather yelled like a wild woman. He said he would not kill a poor frightened creature like that to please any girl. The crowd taunted him—called him a Brahmin or a Buddhist—but I liked him awfully well. I understood his feeling about the frightened, wriggling thing.

And within the next hour, Jimmy killed a rattlesnake—and saved my life.

I never could catch a fish, and so after luncheon he and I climbed the ledges to gather wintergreens. We had some lovely lunches tied up with grass to take to Motherhead when I heard a peculiar buzzing like a weird electric contrivance.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony troubles, woe, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Miss Wise—I am coming to you for advice. I roomed with a girl last summer and we were the best of friends and I did many things to help her to get along. To have enjoyed for my boy friends. I bought a violin for amusement, and she had her company for the past eight months and they played the violin continually while she was there, and in the meantime they gave me two records, but not even a needle. But now they are married and have sent me word by a girl friend to bring the records to her. I sent word back for her to come and get them, that I didn't bring them there, and I would carry her back nothing. Now, Dolly, do you think she should have the records after giving them to me? Or have I done wrong by sending her that word? ANGRY.

Your friend is what I would call an "Indian giver." The records are yours and I would pay no attention to her requests.

THE CLASSIC

"Home of Delicious Lunches"

The Order of the Eastern Star will meet in regular session Tuesday evening, November 15th, at 7:30. A large class of candidates will be initiated and a large attendance is desired.

Sixteen members of the W. W. G. of the Kendall Avenue Baptist church met in regular monthly session at the home of Misses Lillian and Lucile Curran, 1614 Gallia street last evening. A missionary program on China was given, after which a social hour and refreshments were enjoyed. The December meeting will be held at the home of Miss Pauline Crompton, Gallia street.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Held of Arion, Ohio, entertained Sunday with a family dinner and reunion in honor of their thirty-eighth wedding anniversary. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Held and son, Mr. and Mrs. W. Lewis Harris and son, Mrs. Ardrie Womack and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kamard and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Tommison and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Held and family of Linwood, Ohio.

The music lovers of Portsmouth will have a rare treat in the concert of Reinwald Werrenrath, assisted by Timbalist and Yolande Mero on the evening of Monday, November 21st, at the Columbia Theatre, under the auspices of the Ladies' Musical. Werrenrath has been singing before the public for the last ten years. He comes from musical ancestry, as his father, George Werrenrath, was a distinguished tenor, first in his native country, Denmark, then later in this country, where he came in 1876. For seven years he was tenor soloist in Henry Ward Beecher's Plymouth church in Brooklyn, N. Y. He married Aretta Raymond Camp, a famous concert singer of her time. Both his paternal grandfather and grandmother were musicians and singers of fame in their native country of Denmark.

Songs are on sale at the Kay-Granger store and there are still a limited number of seats left at $3.50. This includes the two artists' concert given by the Ladies' Musical, the other to be given later in the season.

Miss Helen Hunt of Ashland is visiting at the home of Miss Page Geer, 423 Sinton street.

Misses Middle Arthurs and Lillian Mae Shelo of Ashland are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Carlin, 1247 Sorento street.

Mrs. E. M. Farrell, John street, and niece, Miss Legna Billian, are spending the week-end in Chillicothe, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John O'Brien.

Twelve members were present at the annual inspection of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Sons of Veterans at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Elchorn, 1820 Fifth street last evening. Messrs. Harzel Evans, David Scott and Carey Riggs of the Sons of Veterans Camp were present for the exercises, after which arrangements were made for the annual donation of money to be sent to the Soldiers and Sailors' Orphan's Home at Xenia, O. This money is sent to purchase Christmas gifts for the children there.

Mr. Everett Hughes and family of Eleventh street are preparing to move Monday to Rosemont Road.

Mrs. Edward Schaefer of Soloto Trail entered a local hospital today to submit to an operation.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Carlin of 1247 Sorento street and their guests, Misses Middle Arthurs and Lillian Mae Shelo of Ashland, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kirch and daughter Esther, will spend tomorrow with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Field or near Sciotoville.

Mrs. George Schleicher of Third street is recovering from a week's illness of tonsillitis and grip.

Mrs. W. C. Ferguson, 711 Court street, is receiving donation of jellies, preserves, package goods and money for the Children's Episcopal Hospital at Auburn Hill, Cincinnati, and requests that all donations be in on Monday.

Mrs. Vernon Davidson, 1605 Fifth street, received the members of Groups Two and Three of Trinity Ladies' Aid in an all day session recently. A very profitable day was spent in sewing for the Bazaar to be held in connection with the turkey supper on Thursday evening next. A noon luncheon was enjoyed after which a business session was held. Mrs. James P. McMullen, chairman, requests all articles be brought to the church early next Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. William Burke (Dolly Maple) of 2130 Seventh street, will enter Mercy hospital tomorrow and be operated on Monday morning at nine o'clock for gonorrhea.

The Misses Janet Reilly, Ruth Stomahorn, Norma McNeal, Agnes Yates and Martha Burkhardt will leave for Ironton this evening to spend the week-end with relatives. They will register at the Hotel Marting while in the city.

World's Finest Diamond. The largest diamond in the world is the Cullinan diamond, given to King Edward by the Transvaal government in 1907. The stone was presented to King Edward in token of the loyalty and appreciation of the people of the Transvaal for the bestowal of the constitution on the colony. It was unearthed at the Jagersfontein mine, Orange River colony, South Africa, in 1905. In its rough state it weighed 3,025 carats, or 1 1/3 pounds. Amsterdam diamond cutters made nine large stones and several smaller ones from it. The largest still weighs 506 1/2 carats and is said to be the most valuable and brilliant diamond in human possession today.

Mrs. Carl Peterson, Cleveland, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Howland, 1723 Thimmonds avenue, left yesterday for Abbeville, where she will visit her father, Dr. L. C. Lockbaugh, before returning to her home.

TRINITY METHODIST CHURCH
Wm. C. Millikan, Pastor
At nine o'clock the Sunday school will hold its subject and study session, using the subject, "Paul's Defense Before Felix." Every class will show conscientious teaching and a cordial welcome.

At the morning worship, 10:15 a. m., the pastor will preach upon "Lazarus Limiting Jesus' Work." The choir will sing "The Man or Sorrows," with solo by Miss Beatrice Stewart, and Miss Ruth Fitch will sing "Abide With Me," by Liddle.

At the evening devotion service of the Epworth League all young people are welcome. The topic will be: "Bible Examples of Personal Evangelism," and Miss Winnetta Stewart will lead the meeting.

At the evening Praise Service, the pastor will preach briefly upon "Does It Matter What a Man Believes?" The anthem will be, "Seek Ye The Lord," by Roberts, with a solo by Mr. Bruce Isham and Miss Beatrice Stewart will sing a solo.

The pastor desires to express for the congregation, keen interest in the drive of the Red Cross for membership and support. We know that this institution is denuded by our peace conditions no less than those of war, as the findings in the county annually show. The work has expanded by reason of its urgency and much suffering will result if the Red Cross is not generously supported.

The public is cordially invited to worship with this church.

FRANKLIN AVENUE M. E.

MANLY M. E. CHURCH
C. W. Brady, Pastor
A. T. Cyphers, Superintendent
Nora Shultz, President of Epworth League

Sunday school at 9:00 a. m. Every effort is being made by the superintendent and his group of officers and teachers to make the school efficient in every department. They are succeeding; is the verdict of the scholars and visitors. The big aim just now is large attendance. Good classes and general association should be an incentive to those of all ages and the gymnasium with its new equipment should attract the young especially. So if you are not in Sunday school this school is making a bid for your presence.

The Epworth League meets at 6:00 p. m. Its meetings are the embodiment of religious fervor. Young people gather here who have a definite religious experience and they talk it to others. It will throw a mighty healthy environment about you if you will join their ranks. They invite you.

Conference Sidelights

By NEA Service
WASHINGTON, D. C., November 12.—Japan's delegation at the limitation of armament conference here outranks all others in size, greater even than the combined delegations of Great Britain, France, Italy and China.

It numbers 84, including experts on every military, naval and economic problem that may arise and diplomatic representatives from embassies in every country that will figure in the meeting.

Japan figures on getting down to brass tacks—and she is not leaving any detail in danger through lack of preparation.

WASHINGTON, during the conference, is the headquarters for all sorts of organizations whose chief aim in life is twisting the British lion's tail.

Already it is proposed to band these organizations together into an Honorable Association of Imperial Tail Twisters or some such union.

Among those already here are the "Friends for Irish Freedom," the "Association for the Promotion of Irish Independence" and Sallendra Nath Gose, chief propagandist for the Gandhi revolutionists of India.

THE State Department is much concerned over a bevy of parrots in the tropical gardens of the Pan-American building, where the closed sessions of the conference will be held.

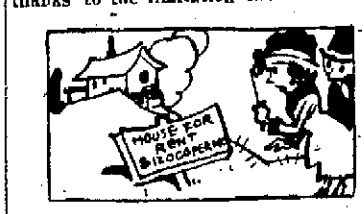

The parrots will be able to overhear all the deliberations of the conference—and parrots, you know, are notoriously indiscreet about repeating what they hear.

Since delegates will have to pass the parrots to get into the conference room, officials are trying to train the birds to shout, "Vive la France!" "God save the king!" and whatever it is one says about the Japanese and Chinese.

FURNISHED residences are commanding a premium in the Washington real estate market, thanks to the limitation of armament conference.

Not only are the nations represented at the conference renting spacious homes to house their delegations, but wealthy folk from far and near, attracted by the promise of the most brilliant social season Washington ever knew, are flocking to the capital for the winter.

And real estate men—well, figure it out for yourself!

THE National Women's Party set a precedent when it established a "watch tower" opposite the capitol.

Now the National Council for Limitation of Armament has established headquarters at 17th and G streets, directly opposite the State Department and only a block from the Pan-American building, where the meetings of the conference will be held.

NAVY officers are peeved. It isn't so bad, they say, to hold a conference to junk the navy and throw them all out of their jobs, but it's adding insult to injury to oust the navy from its own building to make room for the conferees.

ANGLO-JAP TREATY MAY JAM DISARMAMENT MEET

By NEA Service
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The Anglo-Japanese alliance of 1911 is expected to be one of the monkey wrenches in the machinery of the conference on limitation of armaments. China will insist that the matter be brought up.

The alliance provides for: (1) Maintenance of the territorial integrity of China, (2) Consolidation and maintenance of general peace in eastern Asia and India and (3) Maintenance of the territorial rights of Japan and Great Britain in these regions.

Each nation is bound to render military and other aid to the other in case eastern holdings are menaced. Thus Japan would help check an Indian rebellion or British troops would help quell a Korean uprising.

The treaty also binds the nations to give one another military aid if attacked in these eastern holdings by a foreign power, although Britain later inserted a clause eliminating nations with which she had a general treaty of arbitration. United States is considered in this class, although no treaty ever has been signed.

Britain and Japan are expected to protest against a change unless granted something equally safeguarding.

Seen At Arms Meet

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The busiest man at the arms conference will be Charles Lee Cooke, ceremonial chief of the State Department. Cooke has to attend every social function in honor of foreign visitors.

Cooke's an expert on what's called "diplomatic precedence." He has to see to it that the butler doesn't serve soup to the charge d'affaires from Abyssinia without first offering it to the envoy extraordinary from Madagascar.

Cooke's work is really important, for a social snub to a foreign envoy can lead to an exchange of notes and bring about a serious international tangle.

Furnished mansions are commanding a premium in the Washington real estate market, thanks to the party. Not only are delegations looking for quarters, but society folks from far and near are renting homes in hope of a brilliant social season.

The French have taken over Mrs. Marshall Field's home. Japan has leased two large mansions. China has leased the Charles A. Munn mansion.

Snell Miles, secretary of the American delegation, has had an exciting career for a diplomat.

He entered the diplomatic service in 1905 and became private secretary to the American ambassador to Russia. Later he was third secretary to that embassy.

After the Korean revolution he went to Russia as secretary of the Russian mission and lived through many of the harrowing scenes of the Red revolution. But he got back to Washington unscathed.

Since then he's been chief of the Russian division of the State Department.

As the conference convenes American battleships are scattered throughout the Far East. Fighting ships will be at Hawaii, Shanghai, Formosa.

POLITICS AT PARLEY

By NEA Service
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Politics will play a hand in every deliberation at the disarmament conference; will have a say in every agreement. This is the way politics will intrude:

GREAT BRITAIN: The British delegation represents a coalition of harmony government, many factions of which are threatening to bolt. The English are sick of armament taxes, but the strong foreign trade element demands protection.

FRANCE: Premier Briand, heading the delegation, represents the militarist party, opposing Clemenceau and his mailed fist policy. Briand wants its army reduced, but is more eager to see the reparations collected from Germany to make his job good, must secure an agreement between Britain and America to protect France against Germany.

ITALY: The delegation represents a ministry without a pronounced foreign policy. But to satisfy Italians the delegation will have to regain the prestige Italy lost when Premier Orlando bolted at Versailles.

JAPAN: The Japanese delegation will be between two fires—the demands that stand for peace and world cooperation, and the nobility, militarists and expansionists that demand Japanese domination of the Pacific and Orient.

CHINA: This delegation represents a government tottering under assaults from rebels within and concession-greedy foreigners without.

CONGRESS STEPS IN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Discussion of independence for India will be injected into the limitation of armament conference if a certain group of senators has its way. After the conference starts a resolution will be introduced into the Senate declaring that no settlement of Far Eastern affairs can be conclusive unless the fate of India is taken into consideration.

Representatives of the American Commission to Promote Self Government in India already has gained the consent of friendly senators to introduce such a resolution.

This is the first instance of a tenuous congressional meddling in affairs of the conference. Administration advisers pointed out the danger in having Congress in session during the conference but the administration decided not to urge an adjournment on account of the need for important legislation.

Scrap Many Warships

consist of certain ships designated in the proposal and number for the United States 18, for Great Britain 22, for Japan 10.

"The tonnage of these ships would be as follows:

"Of the United States 500,650; of Great Britain, 604,460; of Japan 299,700. In reaching this result, the age factor in the case of the respective navies has reached appropriate consideration.

Replacement.

"With respect to replacement, the United States proposes:

"1. That it be agreed that the first replacement tonnage shall not be laid down until ten years from the date of the agreement.

"2. That replacements be limited by an agreed maximum of capital ships tonnage as follows:

"For the United States 500,000 tons.

"For Great Britain 600,000 tons.

"For Japan 300,000 tons.

"3. That subject to the ten year limitation above fixed and the maximum standard, capital ships may be replaced when they are 20 years old by new capital ship construction.

"4. That no capital ship shall be built in replacement with a tonnage displacement of more than 35,000 tons.

"I have sketched the proposal only in outline," said Secretary Hughes, "leaving the technical details to be supplied by the formal proposition, which is ready for submission to the delegates.

"The plan includes provision for the limitation of auxiliary surface combatant craft. This term embraces three classes, that is,—

"1. Auxiliary surface combatant craft, such as cruisers (exclusive of battle cruisers, flotilla leaders, destroyers and various surface types; (2) submarines and (3) airplane carriers.

"I shall not attempt to review the proposals of these various classes as they bear a definite relation to the provisions for capital fighting ships.

"With the acceptance of this plan, the burden of meeting the demands of competition in naval armament will be lifted. Enormous sums will be released to aid the progress of civilization. At the same time the proper demands of national defense will be adequately met and the nations will have ample opportunity during the naval holiday of ten years to consider their future course. Preparation for future naval war shall stop now. I shall not attempt at this time to take up the other topics which have been listed on the tentative agenda, proposed in anticipation of the conference."

Harding Urges How Uncle Sam Appropriates

It is not to be denied that the world has swung along throughout the ages without heeding this call from the kinder hearts of man. But the same world never before was so tragically brought to a realization of the utter futility of passion's sway when reason and conscience and fellowship point a nobler way.

I can speak officially only for our United States. Our hundred millions frankly want less of armament and more of war. Wholly free from guile, sure in our own minds that we harbor no unworthy designs, we accredit the world with the same good intent. So I welcome you, not alone in good will and high purpose, but with high faith.

We are met for a service to mankind. In all simplicity, in all honesty and all honor, there may be written here the annals of a world conscience refined by the consuming fires of war, and made more sensitive by the anxious aftermath. I hope for that understanding which will emphasize the guarantees of peace, and for commitments to less burdens and a better order which will tranquilize the world. In such an accomplishment there will be added glory to your flags and ours, and the rejoicing of mankind will make the transcending music of all succeeding times.

How Uncle Sam Appropriates

Boy Scouts Will Get Medals, During Services Sunday Evening

The Boy Scouts and the spirit of youth will dominate the service at the First Presbyterian Church tomorrow evening.

It will be the occasion of their annual gathering at church for the presentation of awards and medals for the various accomplishments during the year past, which are so dear to the heart of a Scout. All the troops of the city will be present in the body, and their parents and friends are especially urged to attend and support the boys by their presence.

The pastor, Rev. D. C. Boyd, will give a short address of appreciation of the work of the Scouts, on the subject "The Keepers of the Bridge."

The badges and medals will be presented and will be awarded as follows:

Swimming Contests at Boy Scout Camp

Ralph Monk and Robert Barber, bronze; Richard Fuller and Frederick Lutter, silver; Edw. Gillilan, silver and bronze with bar; Gilbert Fuller, gold.

Nature Contest At Camp

Will Honor Washington

By NEA Service
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—George Washington's tomb at Mount Vernon, Va., 16 miles from here, will be packed with flowers and wreaths throughout the conference on limitation of armaments.

The country estate, which has received more distinguished foreign visitors than any city in the United States, will add another scene of internationally known names to its list.

Every foreign delegation at the conference plans to make a pilgrimage to the historic tomb, decorate it with floral tributes and possibly hold a ceremony commemorating Washington's deeds, says Charles Lee Cooke, ceremonial chief of the State Department.

making of this agreement, shall consist of the following capital ships:

"United States—Maryland, California, Tennessee, Idaho, Mississippi, New Mexico, Arizona, Pennsylvania, Oklahoma, Nevada, Texas, New York, Arkansas, Wyoming, Utah, Florida, North Dakota, Delaware—13. Total tonnage, 500,650.

"Great Britain—Royal Sovereign, Royal Oak, Resolution, Hamillies, Revenge, Queen Elizabeth, Warspite, Valiant, Barham, Malaya, Benbow, Emperor of India, Iron Duke, Marlborough, Erin, King George V, Centurion, Ajax, Hood, Renown, Repulse, Tiger—22. Total tonnage, 604,460.

"Japan—Nagato, Iluga, Ise, Yamashiro, Fuso, Settsu, Kikishima, Harima, Hi-Yei, Kongō—10. Total tonnage, 299,700.

Regarding the naval armaments of France and Italy, the American proposal says:

"In view of certain extraordinary conditions due to the world war affecting the existing strength in the navies of France and Italy, the United States does not consider necessary the discussion at this stage of the proceeding of the tonnage allowance of these nations, but proposes it be reserved for the later consideration of the conference."

Seek Citations For Contempt Of Court

CLEVELAND, O., November 12.—Citations for contempt of court for violation of an injunction restraining striking milk drivers from violence and interference with delivery of milk by the Telling-Belle-Vernon Company, were to be sought by attorneys for the company today, it was learned this morning.

Sticklers offering a reward of $5,000 for information leading to the identity of persons putting poison in milk and purporting to be signed by the Telling-Belle-Vernon Company, were plastered over walls and posts on the west side last night. Company officials announced they did not authorize the printing or distribution of the stickers and branded it as an attempt to intimidate them to their customers and keep them from buying and using their milk.

CHAMBLIN PLEADS GUILTY TO 1ST DEGREE MURDER

Hearing Before Sentence Is To Be Held Monday Morning

Exhibiting little interest in the proceedings, Roy Chamblin, 27 years old, self-confessed murderer, pleaded guilty under two indictments charging him with first degree murder of John W. Newman and Louise Doyle, when he was arraigned before Judge Thomas in Common Pleas court Saturday morning.

The accused was brought into court by Sheriff E. B. Rickey and Deputy Frank Bennett and following a brief conference with his counsel, Attorney Theo. K. Funk the indictments were read to the prisoner by Clerk of Courts Edward Cunningham. Chamblin stood with folded arms and stared into space during the reading of the charges which may send him to the electric chair. Only three counts of the total of sixteen contained in the two indictments were read to the defendant, the first for killing Newman with deliberate and premeditated malice while attempting to rob him, to which he entered a plea of not guilty.

To the seventh count accusing him of slaying Newman with premeditated malice Chamblin admitted guilt which was also his plea to the third count for the shooting to death of the girl. The prisoner at the end of the reading of each count turned to his counsel for advice before entering his plea but at no time during the ordeal did he display any emotion or sign of sorrow.

In answer to an inquiry from the court Prosecutor Sheppard elected to try Chamblin on the Doyle indictment. Judge Thomas promptly assigned the hearing to be accorded the accused upon the issue of mercy for next Monday morning at nine o'clock.

These formalities were soon over and Chamblin was taken back to his cell in the county jail pending the hearing before Judge Thomas which will decide his fate.

The courtroom was thronged with spectators anxious to get a glimpse of the noted prisoner who was the central figure in the drama. Among the throng were many women.

New Boston Officials Deny Being Guilty Of Highway Robbery Charge

When Mayor J. S. Davis of New Boston and his three marshals, John Henry, Dewey Parsons and Frank Hall, indicted by the recent grand jury for highway robbery, appeared in Common Pleas court Saturday morning they pleaded not guilty and Judge Thomas fixed bond at $500 in each case for the appearance of the accused for trial.

The charges against the defendants came in connection with the holding up of an automobile driven by Herbert

Rickey and the alleged stealing by the accused of 1500 campaign bills valued at $15 belonging to the New Boston Republican club. The alleged hold-up occurred early on the morning of last Tuesday's election and came as a climax to a series of strenuous efforts on the part of Mayor Davis and his followers to carry the day at the polls and re-elect himself mayor.

Republican leaders in the village claimed that the hold-up and seizure of the literature was an outrage and Mayor Davis and his three officers were later arrested by Sheriff Rickey on a warrant from Municipal court. On being taken before Judge Sprague the four defendants denied guilt and were released on bond pending their preliminary hearing. At the time of his arrest Mayor Davis contended that his action in ordering the bills confiscated was justifiable, claiming that there is a law which prohibits the distribution of campaign literature while the polls are open on election day.

Huge Crowd Enjoys Entertainment

One of the really fine things of the fall round of entertainments, one of the "never-grow-old" sort of (un)happens, and yet one that always has a peculiar appeal to old and young, was the presentation on Thursday evening at the First Christian church of a Tom Thumblin wedding ceremony, including the gathering of the crowd, the very formal ushers, the relatives of both bride and groom, the usual music, and all that goes to make up a real wedding ceremony of the up-to-the-minute kind. The characters were from the Beginners' Department of the big Sunday school. The directors were Miss Frances Puckett and her corps of able assistants, Miss Violet McFarland presided at the piano and rendered other valuable assistance in directing the ceremonies of the evening.

The thing that proved the entertainment to be one of the biggest things that has happened around First Christian this season was the fact that more than a thousand tickets were sold and that several hundred came who did not have tickets, filling the big auditorium to overflowing fully thirty minutes before time for the entertainment to start and the fact that after it was over the unanimous verdict was that it was the best wedding ceremony they had ever witnessed.

More than fifty children had some part in the ceremony, either as one of the relatives or one of the college chums of either the bride or groom. The old bachelor uncle of the groom occupied a very prominent position on the front row and occasioned much merriment by his interest in everything that occurred. Then the grandmother, her hair silvered with gray, and the grandfather made a very attractive couple. The best man, the maid, the flower girl, the ring bearer all in their proper places and all doing their parts in a way that brought convulsions to the big audience.

The groom, J. W. Miller, in white gloves and dress suit, made his appearance along with the bride, little Miss Clifford, and the minister, young Mister Clark, all lots not over seven or eight years of age, made their appearance in due time, and then the father of the bride, Billy Howland, did his part gracefully and created much amusement by his outburst, a way that it seemed that he could see nothing but his beautiful daughter leading heavily upon his arm.

The ceremony was not complete without a wedding march and this was taken care of by little Mr. Dorman, with his violin. All in all it was the most complete representation of the wedding ceremony of the Tom Thumblin variety that has been seen in many years and the Superintendent, Miss "Fanny" Puckett and her helpers are the recipients of many flattering compliments on the phenomenal success of the entertainment and the highly trained charges in the cast.

The costumes were fitted to the occasion and to the characters they were to represent and the appearance of each one or two of the bridal party was the occasion for renewed laughter and merriment on the part of the audience.

At the close of the ceremony, Mr. Cook, the photographer, posed the entire group of participants for a picture and then the little folks feasted on ice cream and cake as a reward for having done their part so well.

War Or Peace Up To England

Her Attitude Will Determine Stand of Japan on Pacific Problems

BY WM. PHILIP SIMMS
Written Expressly for NEA Service

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 12.—Japan and the United States stand today precisely where Japan and Russia stood on the eve of the Russo-Japanese war.

And unless the diplomats gathered here for the arms conference shatter precedent and play fair, America has hardly a ghost of a show to escape trouble in the Orient.

England, under these circumstances, has become a vital factor. If not the vital factor, and her attitude will largely determine whether there is to be peace or war in the Pacific.

Japan's Ally

When Russia and Japan stood glaring at each other in 1904, England had just become Japan's ally. Without England's moral and financial support, Japan would not have dared tackle the great Slav bear. But having England's support, Japan struck. For Russia stood in her road to Manchuria. Today—whether rightly or wrongly—makes little difference—Japan considers the United States in her way. China blocked her ambitions in Korea and she hated China. Russia opposed her in Manchuria and she hated Russia. Only America remains and she would like to brush America aside as she did Russia and China.

To make the try, however, she more than needs England.

Renewal of Pact

Nippon wishes the Anglo-Japanese alliance renewed, not so much because she thinks Great Britain would fight on her side against the United States in case of war, but because she fears that without the alliance it is possible that Britain's moral support might go to America.

With England as an ally, Japan hopes Canada, Australia and New Zealand might be coerced into remaining neutral and that England's influence in China would be strong enough to keep that country out of the conflict.

In short, unless Japan is assured of England's benevolent neutrality there is little likelihood of her allowing her Asiatic policy carry her to such an extreme as war with the United States—at least for a long time to come.

Cause of Aggression

The feeling is pretty general here that the backing of Great Britain more than any other one thing has been responsible for Japanese aggression in Asia. Deprived of this support, administration officials believe, Japan would adopt a far more reasonable attitude.

A dismal failure in the past as an insurance against war in the Orient, the alliance is considered there an actual menace to peace today.

A strong effort will be made here to have it supplanted by a more general understanding which will give Japan her full rights, but which will not secure her in her claims to "paramount interests" in Asia.

The majority of American officials and at least some British leaders hope to see Great Britain and America take the lead in a Pacific policy which will safeguard the interests of all, yet prevent the Pan-Asian element among the Japanese from pushing their country to war on the ground that Nippon has

MISS STREICH TO SPEAK ON RED CROSS AT THE UNITED BRETHREN CHURCH

In connection with the Sunday evening service at the United Brethren church, corner of Seventh and Gay streets, Miss Edna Streich, chairman of the nursing committee of the Red Cross will give some first hand information of conditions that actually exist in Serbia county. Along with the District Nurse, Miss Streich has been quite active in relief work during the year and her talk will carry with it that personal touch that is sure to appeal and convince all who hear as to the absolute necessity of this phase of the Red Cross work in the county. The pastor will give a brief history of the Red Cross movement and the choir will sing a special anthem, "Great is the Lord," Mrs. W. T. Sowers will sing a solo, "Teach Me to Pray." A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend this service.

First Snow Of The Season

Portsmouth has had its first snow of the season. This morning about two o'clock the white flakes started to fall, but most of them melted immediately. Some of the flakes remained on the roofs this morning, and early risers had their view of the first snow of the season.

Greenup Cancels Sunday Game

The Greenup Owls have cancelled the game they had scheduled with the Smoke House Juniors Sunday morning in this city. The Juniors made plans for the game when they were in Greenup two weeks ago, but since then the Owls have looked another team for Sunday. The Juniors will be idle Sunday, not being able to book a game this late in the week.

McCormack Pays $150,000 For The "Portrait Of A Man"

NEW YORK, November 12.—John McCormack, the singer, has paid $150,000 for the "Portrait of a Man" by Franz Hals, it was learned today.

The Hals painting, from the collection of Count Zamoyski, Polish minister to France, is on its way to this country.

Many other great paintings have been sent to America this year and art dealers predict that this season will bring back the pre-war dealing in framed pictures. The total of paintings bought abroad this year already runs into millions.

Symptoms Women Dread

Mrs. Wilson's Letter Should Be Read by All Women

Clearfield, Pa.—"After my last child was born last September I was unable to do all of my own work. I had severe pains in my left side every month and had fever and sick dizziness and such pains during my periods, which lasted two weeks.

I heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound doing others so much good and thought I would give it a trial. I have been very glad that I did, for now I feel much stronger and do all of my work. I tell my friends when they ask me what helped me, and they think it must be a grand medicine. And it is. You can use this letter for a testimonial if you wish."

—Mrs. HARRY A. WILSON, R. F. D. 5, Clearfield, Pa.

The experience and testimony of such women as Mrs. Wilson prove that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will correct such troubles by removing the cause and restoring the system to a normal condition. When such symptoms develop as backache, bearing-down pains, displacements, nervousness and "the blues" a woman cannot act too promptly in trying Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Don't Fail To See This Big Feature Drama

IN "MORAL FIBRE"

A patriotic program befitting day as well as any held in the auditorium last night under the direction of Foster Krake. The Musical that took part and make the evening's entertainment success deserves much praise for efforts put forth in bringing to close the Armistice Day of 1921. It was given under the auspices of James Dickey Post, American Legion.

The high school auditorium packed at eight o'clock when the program started with the audience "America," "Battle Hymn of the Republic" and "Hail Round the Flag." Mrs. D. C. Boyd presided at piano throughout the evening. The program was Horatio Parker's "Memorial Ode 'A. D. 1919'" a patriotic offering extraordinary and presented by the community and under the direction of Mr. Krake.

The solo work of Mrs. O. J. Dett was especially pleasing and were the compliments on her stage.

Another pleasing feature was a tableau that came near the end of singing. When the chorus reached part of the program where they of bringing flowers, a number of young ladies in Grecian robes had down each of the center aisles up onto the stage. Each carried large green wreaths and was draped on Victory Arch a large white created on the stage for this feature.

As the wreaths were placed on Arch four soldiers and four formed in background that led a patriotic air to the scene.

The young ladies taking part: Misses Virginia Carroll, Joan Paul, Helen Dowling, Bertha Moore, Lloyd, Elizabeth Armstrong, Doris and Virginia Goetz, Jane Boller, Ruth Millard, Dorothy Freund, Ed Solihard, Pige Geers, Gladys Selby, Mary Louise Selby.

The wreaths were the work of Green Workers, their making supervised by Mrs. Josephine King and Mrs. Jennette Williams.

Victory Arch was donated by Loe Lumber Company. Flags banners were donated by the Mart Bros. Company.

Mrs. Alvin Jordan and Mrs. Selby deserve special mention for their work in preparing the wreaths for the tableaux.

All who enjoyed the evening's entertainment pronounced it one of the best of its kind ever offered those taking part are to be commended on their splendid work.

NEW YORK STOCKS
 NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Selected issues furnished the only features of interest at the dull and irregular opening of today's stock market. Most of the domestic oils, coppers and food and textile specialties strengthened, but changes among rails were slight and restricted to secondary issues. Sears-Roebuck declined one point and American Sugar preferred, U. S. Realty and Allied-Chalmers were under pressure. European indices over the holiday were without influence on local foreign exchange rates.
 Oils and equipments were the most prominent features of today's brief but fairly broad stock market. Prices were hardened later on the market strength shown by high grade oils, notably Standard Oil of N. J., which rose sev-

WEST UNION

Dr. H. M. Rohack, who has been spending the past two months with his brother, Dr. S. O. Rohack at Gomer, O., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Rohack.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Satterfield and daughter have returned to their home at Matthews, Missouri. They were called here by the death of Mrs. Satterfield's sister, Miss Thelma Struman.

Attorney W. C. Correll has charge of the probate judge's office this week during the absence of Judge W. P. Stephenson and Deputy H. C. Vance, who is taking his vacation.

Harvey Fields, Superintendent of the Wilson Children's Home, was a business visitor at Peabody, Thursday.

The Corner Stone Class of the Presbyterian church met with Mrs. Ernest Dunkin, Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Sara Rohack returned home Thursday after a week's visit with her sister, Mrs. Clara McClelland, at Wheat Ridge.

Cyrus S. Daniloff took charge of the postoffice at Winchester this week. Mr. Daniloff is an ex-attorney of the county having served in that office from 1900 to 1911. Since moving from West Union to Winchester a few years ago, he has been engaged in real estate business and also connected with his father and brother in the state highway construction work. His many friends here wish him success.

Court News

Thirty more names have been drawn from the jury wheel to serve as petit jurors during the October term of Common Pleas court. Following are the names drawn: L. H. Coleman, Emma Howard, Eddie Newman, C. C. Swearingen, Harry Gray, E. P. Adams, J. W. Harsh, Ira Wilson, Dr. H. J. Johnson, Omar Martin, J. H. Seaman, C. A. Alexander, Harry G. Nelson, H. N. Edgerton, Charles Grimes, Mrs. Fred Plummer, J. C. Pennington, Lewis Carroll, Guy Davis, Norman Spinger, Charles Scott, G. C. Deane, G. N. Knapp, Testa, Jarman, Rufus McCormick, Henry Osmun, C. A. Trotter, W. W. Elliott, Maude Bartholomew, Joe Carter.

During this term of court the criminal docket will be tried. This includes the case of the State of Ohio against George Hoop. Hoop, the marshal of the village of Peabody, was indicted for second degree murder for the killing of Estel Hughes. The killing took place on the streets of Peabody about two months ago. Hoop had argued a friend of Hughes, when Hughes interfered and Hoop shot him. Attorneys C. E. Rohack and F. A. Shively have been retained to assist the State in the prosecution.

Hattie Hunt has filed a suit for partition of real estate against Sampson Coopers, et al., through her attorney, C. E. Rohack.

Through her attorney, C. E. Rohack, Pearl Boldman has filed a suit for divorce from Raymond Boldman. She charges the defendant with extreme cruelty.

The District court of appeals which recently heard the case of Elizabeth Berry, plaintiff in error, vs. Ed Berry, defendant in error, on appeal from the decision of Judge Will P. Stephenson of the Common Pleas court, reversed the decision of the lower court. In 1915 Mrs. Berry was granted a divorce and given the custody of the minor children. In 1920 the defendant filed motion to have the custody of the children taken from the defendant and conferred either to him or the children's home. This motion was sustained by Judge Stephenson, whose decision has been reversed by the upper court.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Grace and daughter, Meredith, left Friday for their new home in Chillicothe.

NEW BOSTON

The evangelistic services at the Ohio Avenue Christian church, which have been in session for a month, have closed. It was a "series" of meetings in which hundreds became vitally interested. The evangelist, pastor, Rev. P. E. Britton, made several small and large charts previous to the meetings, in which he used later in strengthening some of his doctrinal sermons. They have helped to clear up the honest seeking hearts and minds on the vital topics given in the Bible to bring them to obedience in Christ. The pastor never fears nor favors any man by compromising in the Scriptures, but from his mind and heart came great Gospel sermons, in which sixty-nine responded to the Gospel invitation during the meetings.

Previous to and during the revival meetings hundreds of calls were made by the membership and pastor.

There are several to be baptized Sunday evening, Nov. 13th. The church and friends were grateful to Mr. Elmer Pettiers and others who helped with the music. The meeting is long to be remembered by many who attended.

A farewell party was given last evening by Miss Emma Wheeler in honor of Gordon and Clarence Hauld, and Thomas Jackett, who will leave tomorrow for Logan, W. Va., where they have secured work. The rooms were beautifully decorated with white chrysanthemums, ferns and roses.

The main diversions of the evening were games and piano music. At a late hour delicious refreshments were served to Misses Esther Hunk, Madeline Applegate, Mary Crisp, Carrie and Cora Renner, Dorothy Hauld, Virginia McCallister, Rose Schwaninger, and Messrs Everett West, Arthur Crisp, Joseph Sparks, William Gray, James Kimbler, Dennis Burchett, Herbert Burchett, Rufus Seaggs, Thomas Jackett, Gordon and Clarence Hauld and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wheeler and daughter Emma.

A Red Cross meeting will be held at the Cedar street Christian church Sunday afternoon at three o'clock. Arthur Mark Crawford, roll call chairman, O. E. Riekey and Mrs. Columbia White will be the speakers. A song leader and an organist will also be present. This meeting is held under the direction of the local branch of the Scioto County Red Cross.

Don't forget the dance tonight at the Davis hall on Gallia avenue. There will be special music. Adults only. Everybody invited.

Mr. and Mrs. John Eaton, of Garrison, Ky., formerly of here, are the proud parents of a baby son born recently. The little son has been named John William, after the new mayor, William Newberry.

Eliza, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Lester, of Rhodes Avenue, is ill.

Edward Miller, of Gallia avenue, has taken a position with the Corlett Furniture Co., on Gallia avenue.

Harold Boston, of Minford, is the guest of his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. William Jenkins, of Gallia avenue.

Ormond Adams, of Stanton avenue, who has been ill, is better.

Noah Scanga, of Stanton avenue, has returned from a few days visit with Squire Dan Wilson, of Stockdale.

John Thompson, of Stanton avenue, who has been seriously ill, is a little better today.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Huffman are moving from Rhodes avenue to Cedar street.

Mrs. Robert McGinnis and children of Ironton are guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Brown, of Ohio avenue.

Mrs. Bernice Meeks, of Stanton avenue, shopped in Portsmouth today.

Gordon and Clarence Hauld, of Oak street, have gone to Logan, W. Va., where they have secured employment.

Mrs. E. T. Curry and son Emmett, returned to their home at Hopewell, Ky., after being called here by the death of her brother, Frank Huffman.

Jud Tunkins.

Joe Tunkins says he doesn't miss the charm of the human voice in motion pictures because conversation is one of the things he wants to get a rest from.

HAMDEN

Miss Edna Craig returned from a two weeks visit Wednesday evening with her brother-in-law and sister Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wyckoff at Akron, O., and friends and relatives at Delaware.

Will Craig left for Dayton Wednesday on business.

Burt Voltz lost a valuable airbike with her brother-in-law and sister Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wyckoff at Akron, O., and friends and relatives at Delaware.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wyckoff are the parents of a baby girl that arrived at their home Wednesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bagley are spending a few days in Cincinnati.

The Western Union gang with Foreman, seventeen men and two cooks arrived here Wednesday morning. They will be here for several days repairing wires and poles. They have cars furnished almost like a home, with kitchen, dining room, bath, etc.

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Eubanks of Jackson were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lewis the first part of the week.

Chas. Kirkendall and Dr. E. B. Ray were among the number to attend the L. O. O. F. lodge meeting at Wellston Wednesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Earl Craft were in Gallipolis election day casting their ballot.

Mrs. O. G. Cross' Sunday school class of the M. B. church gave one of their members Mrs. Susan Winters a delightful surprise at her home on Chillicothe street Wednesday noon, when they took well filled baskets and held a dinner party. Those to enjoy the affairs besides Mrs. Winters were Mesdames "Grandma" Westphal, L. L. Davidson, Julia Thompson, Martha Campbell, Joe Schupp, H. W. Patterson, J. T. Oger, W. A. Roose, Lucy Hiebert, T. Dempsey, E. S. Ray, Alvin McKinnis, Adele Livingston, Ella Snook, O. G. Cross, A. L. Robbins, Ella Lida Cherrington.

The McArthur basketball team easily defeated the Hamden team at McArthur Thursday night by the score of 25 to 23. Among the number from here to attend were Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Lieve, daughter Thelma, Misses Marie Harris, Bonnie Ray, Katherine Livingston, Louise Bagley, Ruth Thomas, Lela Swanson, Linda Arnett, Jessie Booth, Helen Oger, Lois Carr, Lou Sprague, Prof. and Mrs. C. E. Craft, Dr. J. W. Clark, Messrs. Harry Bagley Jr., Warren and Ralph Booth.

A Narrow Escape.

But Sprague of Athens, a former McArthur boy with several girls who are advertising a baking powder had a narrow escape from serious injury if not death Thursday afternoon about 3:15 at Stanton avenue crossing here. It is a dangerous crossing on account of a high embankment on one side and the Hamden foundry on the opposite side. They were on the B. & O. track before anything was a fast westbound passenger was about on them. Mr. Sprague put on pure gas and just got over when the train went by. One of the girls in the front seat jumped and landed in the ditch along the track. The girls in the rear seat tried to get in the front part of the machine thinking the train was going to hit the rear but luckily they escaped.

British rule in India dates from June 23, 1707, when Siraj-ud-Daula was absolutely defeated in the battle of Plassey. This victory gave England the provinces of Bengal and Behar, which laid the foundation of the empire.

NEW YORK, November 12.—Hope of averting the garment strike involving more than 50,000 workers set for next Monday was revived today with a meeting between Secretary of Labor Davis and a committee of employers scheduled at Washington and a display of conciliation on the part of the workers made to United States senators striving to prevent the strike.

Louis Loring, secretary of the Cloak, Suit and Skirt Manufacturers' Association, announced last night that a committee representing the association would confer this morning at Washington with Secretary of Labor Davis on working conditions in the garment trade. The committee was appointed at the suggestion of Secretary Davis.

Benjamin Schlessinger, president of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union, in a letter to United States senators who had urged the manufacturers to postpone their new working conditions for the trade for two weeks, offered the manufacturers a proposition which, if acceptable, would defer action by either side until the middle of next January.

ANCIENT SECRETS OF ACOUSTICS.

Of interest to architects of public halls is a discovery made among the ruins of ancient churches in France destroyed by the Germans. In clearing away the wreckage of the largest of these a certain number of pottery vessels of great age were found. At first it was supposed that these had in ages past been hidden or lost in the ruins. But expert examination revealed that they were undoubtedly "acoustic vessels" set in the walls of the church by monkish architects to give resonance to the walls. Old records of this are extant and are well known to antiquaries, but never before had the complete destruction occurred which alone could bring to light exactly what they were.—Paris Correspondence in Manchester Guardian.

Plenty of Sunshine.

Sunshine is the housewife's best asset. It is hard for a cold to thrive in a house flooded in sunshine. Even if the members of your household are not at home during sunshine hours, if they sit at night and sleep in rooms that have been flooded in sunshine and fresh air during the daytime they will reap the benefit. So forget the fact that sunshine fades rugs and hangings and let the sun shine in for all it is worth during those months when the sunshine is none too strong, anyway. Pull up your curtains and shades as high as they will go and let this greatest of antidotes come in.

Tales Told by Hands.

A plump hand is a good sign in one's girl friend. It is a sign of good nature. Limp, floppy hands denote indolence, but a firm grasp is only given by one who is industrious.

Stamps and through the same agencies. According to Secretary Mellon the new plan for government savings will include the sale of treasury savings certificates which come in denominations of $100 and $1,000 in addition to the 25¢ certificate, together with further exploitation of the postal savings system.

Secretary Mellon announced that the securities to be offered after the first of the year will have a wide popular appeal and will be sold throughout the country in convenient form. "It is regarded as particularly appropriate that the Roosevelt portrait should appear on a security of this character and on the denomination which will be the most available to the public," said Secretary Mellon.

Roosevelt always was an exponent of thrift. His best known remark concerning economy and thrift probably was: "Extravagance robs character; train youth away from it. On the other hand, the habit of saving money, while it stiffens the will, also brightens the energies. If you would be sure that you are beginning right, begin to save."

During November government savings certificates can be bought at any postoffice at the following prices: $100 treasury savings certificates for $84.40 each; $25 treasury savings certificates for $21.10 each, and $5 War Savings Stamps, $4.22 each.

Garred Heads Legion Post

Alex Garred, widely known Huntington business man and ex-lawyer at the aviation corps of the American Expeditionary Forces, was elected post commander of Huntington Post No. 16, American Legion, at the annual business meeting of the organization following a banquet at the Elks' club last night.

After the election of officers, the war veterans brought to a close a program of celebration of Armistice Day with a dance in the Elks' Club hall room, in which the public shared.

Highland Lads Winners

Playing with the same organized effort that won them the championship in the elementary school football league the Highland football eleven won from Shields' Specialists on the Sixteenth street field Saturday morning by a score of 21 to 0. The Specialists had challenged the Highland team to a game, thinking they could trim them. The Specialists had players from all other eighth grade teams but could not stop the well organized Highland eleven.

The Highland lads used a combination of line bucks, and runs and forward passes, most of the big gains being made on end runs.

The field was more like a pond than a gridiron and the loss from getting away for any of his long runs that featured his playing with Garfield school.

The Highland team is now looking for new fields to conquer and may organize a team with other eighth grade players to play eighth grade teams from out of town.

The Garment Strike

Nuts Considered Lucky.

In Russia and some other countries nuts are considered lucky and money bringers. A Russian will keep nuts in his house, and it is said that he will discover to the owner secret or hidden wealth.

Battle Won India for Britain.

British rule in India dates from June 23, 1707, when Siraj-ud-Daula was absolutely defeated in the battle of Plassey. This victory gave England the provinces of Bengal and Behar, which laid the foundation of the empire.

NEW YORK, November 12.—Hope of averting the garment strike involving more than 50,000 workers set for next Monday was revived today with a meeting between Secretary of Labor Davis and a committee of employers scheduled at Washington and a display of conciliation on the part of the workers made to United States senators striving to prevent the strike.

Louis Loring, secretary of the Cloak, Suit and Skirt Manufacturers' Association, announced last night that a committee representing the association would confer this morning at Washington with Secretary of Labor Davis on working conditions in the garment trade. The committee was appointed at the suggestion of Secretary Davis.

Benjamin Schlessinger, president of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union, in a letter to United States senators who had urged the manufacturers to postpone their new working conditions for the trade for two weeks, offered the manufacturers a proposition which, if acceptable, would defer action by either side until the middle of next January.

ANCIENT SECRETS OF ACOUSTICS.

Of interest to architects of public halls is a discovery made among the ruins of ancient churches in France destroyed by the Germans. In clearing away the wreckage of the largest of these a certain number of pottery vessels of great age were found. At first it was supposed that these had in ages past been hidden or lost in the ruins. But expert examination revealed that they were undoubtedly "acoustic vessels" set in the walls of the church by monkish architects to give resonance to the walls. Old records of this are extant and are well known to antiquaries, but never before had the complete destruction occurred which alone could bring to light exactly what they were.—Paris Correspondence in Manchester Guardian.

Plenty of Sunshine.

Sunshine is the housewife's best asset. It is hard for a cold to thrive in a house flooded in sunshine. Even if the members of your household are not at home during sunshine hours, if they sit at night and sleep in rooms that have been flooded in sunshine and fresh air during the daytime they will reap the benefit. So forget the fact that sunshine fades rugs and hangings and let the sun shine in for all it is worth during those months when the sunshine is none too strong, anyway. Pull up your curtains and shades as high as they will go and let this greatest of antidotes come in.

Tales Told by Hands.

A plump hand is a good sign in one's girl friend. It is a sign of good nature. Limp, floppy hands denote indolence, but a firm grasp is only given by one who is industrious.

Stamps and through the same agencies. According to Secretary Mellon the new plan for government savings will include the sale of treasury savings certificates which come in denominations of $100 and $1,000 in addition to the 25¢ certificate, together with further exploitation of the postal savings system.

Secretary Mellon announced that the securities to be offered after the first of the year will have a wide popular appeal and will be sold throughout the country in convenient form. "It is regarded as particularly appropriate that the Roosevelt portrait should appear on a security of this character and on the denomination which will be the most available to the public," said Secretary Mellon.

Roosevelt always was an exponent of thrift. His best known remark concerning economy and thrift probably was: "Extravagance robs character; train youth away from it. On the other hand, the habit of saving money, while it stiffens the will, also brightens the energies. If you would be sure that you are beginning right, begin to save."

During November government savings certificates can be bought at any postoffice at the following prices: $100 treasury savings certificates for $84.40 each; $25 treasury savings certificates for $21.10 each, and $5 War Savings Stamps, $4.22 each.

Nature Troop Defeated

The Nature Troop of Scouts that have been winning from all comers this season met its first setback yesterday when they went up against the Troop One team and lost by a score of 12 to 6. The Nature boys put up a great game, far superior to that shown by the West Enders but they were outwitted. The contest was snappy and fast from the start despite the soggy field. During the last quarter, a heavy rain began to fall and the field became a lake of mud. The teams mixed up their plays.

The Nature eleven was the first to score shortly after the first quarter began. Shields caught a pass and carried the oval thirty yards for six points.

The weight of the Troop One team began to tell later in the game and they scored in the second period on a pass to Morris who carried the ball over from the twelve yard line.

In the third quarter Hall got away from a mixup during scrimmage and tore down the field on a forty yard dash that took the pigskin over. The final score was 12 to 6. McNamara and Miller were the bright and shining lights for the West End bunch while Shields got into every play for the Nature Troop.

Plan Poultry Show Next Month

Portsmouth's chicken fanciers held a meeting last night to arrange for a poultry show some time next month. They are looking for a place to hold their exhibit and when the place is secured they will complete the plans for holding the show about the middle of December. A meeting will be held next Monday night at the office of Mr. A. L. Richards, funeral director to which all fanciers are invited. There are about 100 breeders of fine birds in the city so the backers of the show hope to have at least that many entries of poultry and in addition, entries of pigeons, rabbits and pet stock.

Tax books are now open for payment of taxes in all districts outside the city of Portsmouth.

Oklahoman Praises Black-Draught, Having Used It "Can Safely Say for 50 Years."

Grandfield, Okla.—One of the best known farmers of Tillman County, Mr. G. W. Tisdale, who owns and manages a wagon yard here, says:
"I have used Theodor's Black-Draught—I believe I can safely say for fifty years.
"I was born and reared in Texas, Freestone County, sixty-four years ago. I have been married forty-four years. My father used Black-Draught before I was married, and gave it to us.
"For forty-four years of my married life, it has had a place on our medicine shelf, and is the only laxative, or liver medicine, we use. We use it for torpid liver, sour stomach, head-ache, indigestion. I don't think we could get along without it, knowing what it has done for us, and the money it has saved. It is just as good and reliable today as it was when we began its use. My boys use it and they are satisfied it's the best liver medicine they have ever used."
Theodor's Black-Draught is purely vegetable, not disagreeable to take and acts in a prompt and natural way. So many thousands of persons have been benefited by the use of Theodor's Black-Draught, you should have no hesitancy in trying this valuable old well-established remedy, for most liver and stomach disorders. ## New Boston High Shows Fine Form Although Defeated 7 To 0

Defeated, but not disgraced, the New Boston high school warriors returned from Waverly Friday night, the Waverly high school clerks winning by a score of 7 to 0 over New Boston on the Pike county field.

New Boston was greatly outwitted but with this against them put up a great game, Coach Stevens being well pleased with the showing made by his light team. New Boston felt they accomplished a great deal by holding Waverly to a lone touchdown.

On account of the muddy field New Boston's speeders did not get into play and the long runs they counted on making had to be cast aside. The New Boston players had to pound at the heavy Waverly line and could not gain the weight put on the field by Waverly. The Waverly eleven made its touchdown in the second quarter by continued rushes of the line. On the third play was run a number of times, the ball being taken down the field and across New Boston's goal line.

The New Boston lads played hard in the first quarter and were pushed back down the field in the second quarter when most of their fight was gone. New Boston carried the ball to Waverly's eight yard line and twelve yard line, but could not get up the necessary fight to take it over from these points.

Henson and Staten in the backfield and Norris at center starred for New Boston.

Miami Tackles Mt. Union

ALLAANCE, O., Nov. 12.—Mount Union and Miami will battle here this afternoon on a soft snow covered gridiron. The invaders from southeastern Ohio arrived in this city this morning. Miami enters the game heavy favorites with five conference victories to her credit. Mount has lost three games and tied with Kenyon. While prospective line-ups were not announced, it is thought each team will be minus one of its stars. Thompson will not start at fullback for Mount Union. Minnie, star quarterback, will be out of the game for Miami.

Iowa To Meet Indiana

IOWA CITY, Iowa, Nov. 12.—Following a light workout yesterday, both Indiana and Iowa, Coach Sigmund announced that five of the regulars on the Indiana team were on the hospital list. He predicted, however, that his team would hold Iowa to a low score. Every member of the Iowa team is in fine physical shape, including Captain Devine, who was back in the line-up today.

Chicago To Battle Illinois

URBANA, Ill., Nov. 12.—The uncertainty of the outcome of today's game between Illinois and the University of Chicago was heightened today by a snow covered field and consequent possibilities for unexpected fumbles. A light snow accompanied last night, which started this morning, was still falling this morning. Coach Stagg has been drilling the team hard and working out some new formations with which he hopes to stump the Illini.

Nomads vs Rosemounts Tonight

Tonight at 7:30 o'clock in Willamette hall the Nomads basketball five of Bigelow will play their first game of the season with the Rosemount Road five. The game promises to be fast and exciting. The Rosemounts being determined to break the winning record of the Nomads who have won 65 games in three years. Julius Baumann has been secured to referee this big game for which an admission of 25 cents will be charged.

Cincinnati Football Center

COLUMBUS, OHIO, Nov. 12.—There are reasons for the assertion that the city of Cincinnati will be made something of a football center next year. Ohio Wesleyan officials at Delaware are in a mood to enter into a contract to show their team in Redford for five consecutive years against the University of Cincinnati.

Wisconsin Meets Michigan

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Michigan and Wisconsin, the latter undefeated this season, clashed today at Madison for the first time since 1905. Both teams have been preparing for this game for two weeks and, though Wisconsin, with eleven seasons veterans to go into the game, appears to have the advantage, Michigan was expected to show up stronger than at any time this season. Iowa expected to add another step to its championship march by defeating Indiana in the game at Iowa City. The Big Ten fans predicted an easy victory for Ohio State over Purdue at Columbus. Ohio State has beaten

Bulldog Battles Tiger

NEW YORK, November 12.—The Bulldog of Yale met the Tiger from Princeton at New Haven today in the second of football's big three clashes of the season and the battle thundered that began with a gathering of the crowds soon after dawn unrolled, to an extent, a number of lively gridiron engagements in other parts of the east. The Princeton eleven was rated highly because of its victory over Harvard, but Yale, undefeated during the season, was ready with its most formidable army and seemed an equal choice. Up Boston way, Harvard had Brown for its afternoon guest, while on Franklin field, Philadelphia, the naval cadets and Penn State prepared for their offensives. Both the Navy

Purdue And State Clash

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 12.—Purdue and Ohio State were ready to battle here today on a gridiron made soggy by rains of yesterday and last night. The Buckeyes were generally considered as having the edge, but the Boilermakers were expected to put up a desperate fight to oust the Ohioans from their position as one of the leaders in the Western Conference.

Ironton Panthers Win

The Whitehall Panthers of Ironton won a one-sided victory from Russell yesterday afternoon on the Beechwood gridiron by the score of 21 to 0. The Panthers had a walkaway all the way through and had no trouble in showing their superiority over the Kentucky eleven, who made their only score on a fumble picked up by Sutton the last fifty yard mark over the goal.

The Panthers won from the Smoke House Juniors here last Sunday by a score of 9 to 0.

Denison Meets Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, O., November 12.—Denison's prospects were enhanced by the announcement that neither Mike Palmer, fullback, nor Frank Crolley, quarterback of the University of Cincinnati, will be able to start in the game when the two teams meet at Carson field this afternoon.

The Granville team arrived in Cincinnati last night, looking in the best of condition.

ABA, OHIO, Nov. 12.—Ohio Northern football team defeated Heidelberg 15 to 0 here Friday. The game was played on a muddy field which was responsible for many fumbles by men on both teams. It was Ohio Northern's third straight win.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 12.—Whether the race for the gridiron championship of the Ohio Conference would result in a split of honors between Oberlin and Miami was the question in the minds of followers of the sport in Ohio, as they viewed the probable results of today's games.

With Oberlin facing Case at Cleveland and Miami riding up with Mount Union at Alliance, there appeared little chance that today's contests would alter the standing of the leaders, each of whom has won five consecutive games.

Case, although repeatedly defeated, was regarded as having a slightly better chance than Mount Union of being about a change by defeating Oberlin, but even this was generally regarded as remote.

Of other games to be played today, the Akron-Wooster conflict at Wooster was thought to be one which would furnish a close fight. Wooster has shown strength in previous games against top-notch teams, while Akron has come through with several cleverly executed victories.

Kenyon, having played four tie games, will attempt to break the jinx against Miami, with prospects for success considered good.

Denison and Cincinnati meet at Cincinnati, with the Denisonians picked as the stronger team, but with Cincinnati considered as likely to stage a come-back, after two defeats by conference teams.

Other conference games are: Oberlin vs. Wittenberg at Springfield and Western Reserve vs. Ohio Wesleyan at Delaware.

Ohio University is to play Columbia at New York City.

Harvard Team Expects An Easy Game

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., November 12.—With Harvard's board of strategy and seven of her first string players at New Haven to observe Yale in its game with Princeton, the task of stopping Brown today was assigned largely to second string men. Coach Robinson, of Brown also planned to start several players of secondary rank.

Ty Cobb Leads Winter League

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12.—Ty Cobb, with a batting average of .413, leads the hitters of the California winter league to date, according to unofficial records.

Harry Hoffman is second with .394; Rogers Hornsby third with .387, and George Sisler fourth with .361.

Herman Starts New Campaign

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Pete Herman, of New Orleans, who lost his bantamweight title to Johnny Buff last September, will meet Roy Moore, of St. Paul, in a 15 round bout here tonight. Herman said it was his first bout in a campaign to eliminate the foremost contenders for the crown and earn the right to a return engagement with Buff.

Badgers Meet Old Rivals

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 12.—Wisconsin's hopes of retaining its place in the "Big Ten" championship race were at stake today when the Badgers, with five straight victories to their credit, met Michigan in the most important game in the mid-west. The contest was the first between these old time rivals in sixteen years.

Wisconsin rules a consistent favorite because of triumphs over Illinois, Northwestern and Minnesota. Both teams were on edge for the contest as a result of two weeks of preparation.

The Selects met the Culls last night and took three straight. The Culls didn't have a chance, the scores being 21-8, 21-13, 21-13. Julius played all over the floor, and occasionally over the net, killing the ball every time it came near him, and generally unassisted. He killed the ball lights grow dim, while the Culls side of the net was unilluminated.

Selects—Julius Baumann, captain, Kendall, Arthur Doll, Russell Bryant, Joe Barber, M. Ruggles.
Selby Vets—N. B. Griffin, captain, Edling Hock, Oleo Freeman, Roger Selby, Clyde Groh, Oles Pout.

The Bigdows changed places for the sixteenth time with the Selby Vets, when they met them last night at the Moose hall. The Vets won the first game 21-10. The Bigdows took the second 21-12. The third looked like a Selby victory, as they had the Bigdows 16-2, but after playing the most brilliant kind of a game, Homer and Goodard especially, Orin Rieley began to yell, and took their minds off the game, and before they had recovered the Bigdows had won out

GOING TO STAY AT HOME

WE have come to the conclusion that the very best thing a meek and lowly bush editor can do is to stay by his own home and fireside and not venture out into strange countries and large cities. Police and burglars are so inconsiderate. Thus in Columbus Thursday we got bawled out by a traffic cop for jay walking, got arrested for violating the parking laws and had two automobile robes stolen from our car—all within a space of 20 minutes. Just as soon as the kind gentleman at police headquarters allowed us to go, we hit the broad highway for dear old Portsmouth and here we stay, no more to roam. We hope old John Corns, of the Ironton Register, will take warning and profit by our experience for, not boasting any, we know, the ways of John's town are much more hickier than ours and if John had been in Columbus Thursday we do not believe he would have gotten away with his shirt on his back.

MAY MEAN MUCH OR LITTLE

TUESDAY'S elections showed altogether favorable to Democrats.

In Kentucky and Maryland they captured the legislative branches of government, in Virginia their majorities for state officers reached abnormal proportions and in both the city and state of New York they made astounding gains.

Their leaders and newspapers look upon all these pluses as a sure indication that the country is again turning its face toward Democracy. That may or may not be the case. It may mean no more than that the pendulum having swung too far in one direction is only coming back the other way with some violence.

There was no reason at all why this country should have precipitated itself back to Republicanism, last fall, with such stupendous volume. There was one reason, that ought to have been unanswerable why it should not, the ever increasing enjoyment of prosperity through the eight years of Democratic administration. But that proved no stay because the people were disturbed and disordered to the very roots of their being. They were dissatisfied with themselves and they persuaded themselves the grievance lay elsewhere.

So they elected Harding. His administration hasn't done anything to disappoint them because mainly it has done nothing at all. But they are dissatisfied, nevertheless. Isn't that more because they haven't yet found themselves, than from any other cause? It is possible that is the case anyway, and there we may find true accounting for a violent revulsion in political form, especially with hard times existing.

Indeed, we may take these incidents, showing us they do extreme variability, that the country is returning to normalcy. When that point is reached the entire probability is that the parties will find themselves standing about as they did before the war threw everything out of balance.

TWO WHY FOURTEEN WHY NOT

PEOPLE with axes to grind, often say to us: "Why do you not do this and why do you not do that?"

They assume the influence of a newspaper over its public is irresistible. It isn't, and that is a good thing for the public and a most excellent thing for the newspaper.

Influence of a newspaper, like that of an individual, is a plant of delicacy, and not to be either vainly or too frequently displayed, else will it fade and disappear. A striking case of this truism appeared in the New York city election. The newspapers of that city are great journals, they assume to speak not only for their city, but for the whole country and the earth besides. There are seventeen of them. Fourteen joined in concert to crush the Democratic mayor and drive him from position in disgrace. The reasons actual or fictitious, they didn't present against him were too trivial to present, while the monstrous ones got all the punch that editorial and scare headlines could give them. Two, Hearst's morning and afternoon editions, supported the Democrat and a third, after cautiously sitting on the fence throughout the campaign, made a desperate attempt to jump into the band wagon the day before election. The Democrat won by a majority approaching a half million, the largest ever cast in the city.

The fourteen denuded themselves that they could lead the people whither they would. They were vain of their influence. All they accomplished by attempting to parade it was the discrediting of themselves.

It is a good lesson and taking it with a similar instance in Chicago, last spring, it sets down the wholesome illustration that down in their hearts the American people love fair play, that their sympathies are generally with the under dog in the fight.

It is hard for some towns to get on the map. Here with every daily in the state publishing a list of towns and the politics of the mayor elected therein, Jackson is unmentioned, though she did herself the high and exceptional honor of electing a Democrat.

Brethren there still remains a thing or two to be thankful for. Serbia and Albania are at war, doing real fighting, but not once has the cable been able to extract a crisis from that same war.

Greenup Democrats mourn because you never can tell what is going to happen in an election. They nominated only a half county ticket and now find they swept the county—might just as well have had 'em all as a part.

Didn't we tell you the outside districts would vote against a poll tax? To be sure we did and they did—four to one or something more.

Don't tell us any more with that four to one vote for a house that the last war is unpopular. People don't vote money out of their pockets for an unpopular cause.

The sapient and shining Sun says if everybody had followed its advice the result would have been different. Out of an abundance of sad experience we'll admit it is nearer right there than it was any time during the campaign.

New-York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MONTYRE

NEW YORK, November 12.—JUANITA has thrown open her soul under the sidewalk on Sheridan Square. Juanita is the 17-year-old girl who lives in the 17-year-old Sapho of Greenwich Village.

According to her, one little short from the beautiful fountain of spirit where souls bubble together is better for the cosmic consciousness than anything you buy from a ship's steward along the water front, with revenue stamps and all.

Juanita's Papa is Merton Olivero, known by the village worshippers as "the man in black" because he is given to wearing a black cutaway, featuring beef stew on the lapels, though the beef soup motif is subtly present. He has a Buffalo Bill's coat of tangerine tint tending to gray.

Juanita has never had a poetry lesson in her life but now and then feels a poem stirring within her. One who read her "Truth" vowed he had often felt the same stirring but treated himself with simple home remedies.

Papa Merton paints pictures and entertains with talk about her soul and his soul something like this: "Well, now about this soul light proposition. The world is full of people and when I was in England I got chased out for reading horoscopes too disturbingly. Now when I was a tight-rope walker I did a headstand 900 feet in the air and I thought I'd get to juggling, more artistic you know, so I took up magic tricks. Now about this soul business—"

Goodness knows the average of canvas he has covered with paint, but he should worry for he sold three paintings to a French dealer for $10,000 last week and if you don't believe it he will show you the brush he used to paint them.

Sightseers go down to Sheridan Square in droves to refresh their drooping souls with pure, clear waters of inspiration drawn from the soul light shrine and if that metaphor seems muddled, who are you to find fault with Juanita, the child of the moon and stars, the 17-year-old Sapho of Greenwich Village?

"Do you know," said Lew Fields at lunch the other day, "the Jewish people are a lot more thrifty than other people. Why we're already had our New Years and our folks haven't even had our Christmas yet."

When a new supper club opened after the theatre the other night it was arranged to have a huge searchlight played on the front from the top of a neighborhood skyscraper. The light was installed and at 11 o'clock shed its giant rays. Unfortunately, however, it was focused on a greasy spoon type of midnight lunch room and the place did a rushing business while basking in the spotlight.

The native New Yorker feels quite proud over walking one block and meeting Admiral Earl Beatty, Chief Army General Diaz, of Italy, and Marshal Foch. The three distinguished visitors happened to be walking in the same block on Fifth Avenue the other evening around six o'clock.

There are a lot of people who say George M. Cohan left America a broken-hearted man. His heart is with Broadway and he would rather be producing a show than doing anything else. Yet his recent split with the actor's organization has made it impossible. Those who saw him at the pier to say good-bye, were struck with his change in appearance. He was not the jaunty, flag swinging comedian with the nasal twang of a few years ago. He seemed far older than his years and there was a lack of his youthful enthusiasm. George M. is only 45. He appeared more like 60.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

By W. G. SIBLEY

The Chicago Service, Gallatin, Ohio

The End of a Beautiful Dream
Western farmers have long been distrustful of political quacks who peddle economic cure-alls for business and market ills, provided they promise agriculture large profits; but the field for erratic legislative action along agricultural lines has shifted from time to time as experience taught farmers the futility of mixing politics and economics.

Fifty years ago Ohio was the storm center of a demand that government bonds should be redeemed in greenbacks—"the Ohio idea." It was called—with such men as William Allen and Samuel Cary in the lead. Sound money advocates had a hard time heading off the financial theories which later destroyed Russia's credit under Lenin. Then came, twenty years after, the demand from the same economic school for the "free coinage of silver," led by William J. Bryan of Nebraska. An intensely argumentative campaign, McKinley leading, was required to educate the public to the economic dangers of the proposal.

During the same decade the Farmers' Alliance and the Populists, whose strength was almost wholly among agriculturists, sought in vain to control the financial and market policies of the country by guaranteeing farmers parity through the adoption of false economic principles, and their execution through governmental agencies. By this time the storm center had traveled west of the Mississippi to Kansas, with her Peffer and Stockless Simpson in the forefront. East of the Mississippi rural populations had become shy of political schemes to enrich farmers by legislation.

The last stronghold of men who believe the government should guarantee the farmer the prices he wants for his product has been North Dakota, where a man named Arthur C. Townley, an exceedingly smooth talker and enthusiastic promoter of a scheme for the political distribution and marketing of agricultural products. It was state socialism, pure and simple, and confident farmers joined his Nonpartisan League organization en masse. In 1915 his candidate for governor got 57,000 votes out of a total of 100,000. With him the League captured both legislative and state administration, and has held them since.

The state of North Dakota has been socialized since that election more effectively than any government the country has had in one of its large political divisions, and other states and business generally has watched the experiment with anxiety. State grain elevators were built, state flour mills, and state banks as well, the latter to give the farmers the credit facilities they wanted without liquid security private banking institutions must demand to be safe. "And all went merry as a marriage bell" until about a year ago the banks began to fail and the State found its credit reined. Then came disillusionment, and in the recent Dakota recall election the ineffectual political smash which has followed all other attempts through politics to control or reverse economic laws and principles. The Nonpartisan Governor, the Attorney General and the Commissioner of Agriculture and labor have been replaced by men who do not believe in Townley's ideas or in the Nonpartisan League. The socialized state government has been wrecked by a wiser and sounder state full of farmers—dupes no longer.

Perhaps the experiment was worth while. It marks another chapter in the education of the trustful farmer, not so trustful now of political adventures—and is a fine lesson for voters in other parts of the west who wished they lived in North Dakota when bank credits were easy there, and the State was functioning against sound business principles.

The most remarkable case of natural selection is that of Miss Gibbs, an English actress, who refused 1,847 proposals of marriage, and accepted the 1,848th. We wonder who kept her books for her.

If American ambassadors and consuls are to be the targets for the bombs of murderous anarchists who happen to dislike the dispensation of justice in our courts, the pressure for such appointments will decrease in Washington.

November affords men of solitary habits many delightful opportunities for brisk exercise in bracing atmosphere—going and coming.

"Chop" in China Is a Trademark
A "chop" in China is a trademark. It represents incidentally a guarantee of value, which may be greater or less in proportion to the commercial standing of the firm or money-shop through whose hands it passes. A clean, unchopped dollar is looked upon with askance. The chop affixed may be merely an ink stamp, or it may be put on with a sharp die, defacing the coin. Thus, a silver dollar, after being in circulation for a while, becomes unrecognizable. A properly guaranteed coin assumes a cup shape and not infrequently with a hole through the middle. The Chinese silversmith extracts a percentage from the dollars that pass through his hands, by scooping out some of the silver.

IF YOU ARE WELL BRED
You will lift your hat when a woman, under your escort, receives some courtesy from a stranger.
You will not use a toothpick in public after a meal.
You will eat asparagus with a fork and not with your fingers.

AIN'T IT A GRAND AND GLORIOUS FEELING — BY BRIGGS

Armistice Day
Armistice Day. Oh Armistice Day. Then day of days to me! Welcomed thou art, thrice welcomed thou art, Thou'll never forgotten be!

Scenes of the past come flooding my brain.
The night of strife and war,
Terrorized din of cannonade.
It seems as if it were the door—
Hell's own wide door, were opened full wide.

Its demons—kings astir
Challenging forth with fury and rage
The vision becomes a blur.

Hellish-artillery sends streams of fire
That's mowing down the Yanks,
Shrapnel and bombs! Have pity thou God.

Our boys are in those ranks!
Star! Unapposed is the thirst for blood.

The cravings of greedy Sire,
Bodies are neutral, the breath that they breathe
Is a poisonous flame of fire.

Armistice Day stilled the roar of the cannon.
It stopped the rain of shell.
Broke the oppressor's warring and loosed
The prisoner from his cell.

Brought back our islands from Chateau Thierry.
Our brothers from No Man's Land.
Saved our dear sons from agonies dire,
Stopped the tread of the funeral band.

Armistice Day. Oh Armistice Day!
The joys thou has bro't to me
Ne'er can be penned, ne'er can be voiced.

'Til we reach the Eternity.
—A. Della M. Oberg.

Wise Jottings
Filing a will sometimes rasps the feelings of the heirs.
The telephone enables some men to lie without becoming confused.
Indifference sometimes wins where manifest desire stands no show.
The fool had his own idea about the red hot horseshoe, but he soon dropped it.

About all the use some men have for the golden rule is to measure the conduct of others.

A man who can make an after dinner speech but won't be less tiresome than one who can't but will.

For Revenue Only
"With all your duties you have the assurance to ask for the hand of my daughter? What are you thinking of?"
"My debts."

Easy
"Senator Shortworthy says we must save the country."
"Has he any ideas about the best way to do that?"
"No, but he can make a speech on the subject that will hold an audience spellbound for an hour."

Best By Test
Customer in (perfumery shop)—Is this a good brand of perfume?
Sales girl (trained in a book store)—That, madam, is one of our six best smelling.

Needlework
"Is your daughter expert in needlework?"
"Yes," replied the merry mother. "I've known her to do nothing for hours except change the needles on the phonograph."

The Home Touch
Sunday School Teacher—What did Bolshazzer learn from the writing on the wall?
Bright Little Girl—Please, miss, that his walls hadn't been dusted for a long time.

The Neglected One
"I see it is claimed that contented cows give better milk."
"Yes, and happy hogs yield finer pork products. Everything is tending in that direction. It is only the consumer who is discontented."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Not a Hoof
"No, your honor, he didn't give a hoof whether I saw him coming or not."
"How do you know he didn't give a hoof?"
"Well, he didn't blow his horn."

Ice Cream Soda for Two, Please
He (thoughtfully)—Don't you like that sort of person who says the right word at the right time?
She (coolly)—Yes, especially when I'm dry and thirsty.

Who Got The Penny?
If was little Dorothy's first time to attend Sunday school. Before leaving the house her father gave her a penny and said:
"Now, Dorothy, you must give your penny to Jesus."
When the Sunday school teacher passed the collection envelope she followed the example of the other children and deposited her penny. On her return home her father asked:
"Dorothy did you give your penny to Jesus?"
"No, sir," she replied. "Mr. Jesus was not there, so I gave it to Mrs. Jesus."—Kansas City Star.

No Private Stock
To save my coin I shall not try. My hope of this has flown. I cannot board enough to buy A coal mine of my own.

Cupoele
"Why did the Arab fold up his tent and silently steal away?"
"I suppose," said the camper, "was the same old story. The man quitted got to be too much for him."

Two Kinds of People
There are two kinds of people, those who know and won't tell and those who don't know and tell.—Athens Globe.
